ARLINGTON HEIGHTS HERALD

VOLUME 1, NUMBER 16 — ENTERED AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER AT ARLINGTON HEIGHTS, ILLINOIS — ARLINGTON HEIGHTS, ILL., FRIDAY, FEB. 11, 1927 — H. C. PADDOCK & SONS, Publishers, Arlington Heights, Illinois — SUBSCRIPTION — $2.50 A YEAR

Dollar Day Is Decreed; Saturday, Feb. 19 To Be Community Bargain Day

Arlington Heights as a great trading center for a vast northwestern suburban and rural community will make a collective and especial appeal to its territory on Saturday, February 19, in a spectacular Dollar Day Sales campaign. Under the auspices of this newspaper the wide awake business interests of this city have joined hands in arranging a bargain day that will be long remembered by the thrifty householders for many miles around. An effort is being made to show the collective strength of Arlington Heights business, not in financial figures, alone, but in diversity and quantity.

Regardless of what your needs may be Arlington Heights has a source of supply and a medium to fulfill your wants.

And the business of this community is more thoroughly established then a great many patronized by our citizens in the larger neighboring cities.

An even break with the "cash in advance "mail order proposition" is all that your local dealer seeks.

The ends to which he will go in securing this break will be accentuated in next week's Dollar Day sales. A special advertising supplement to our papers will go forth next week advocating a trade at home policy and inviting north western Cook county to an orgy of bargains unique in local trade.

As a stimulator this newspaper is offering twenty five dollars in the coin of the realm to persons participating in the Dollar Day sales in the form of free prizes.

Mileage Tickets

Three cash prizes solid U. S. gold at that, will be given to the customer who travels the greatest distance to participate in the Arlington Heights bargain day.

Seven dollars and fifty cents, five dollars and two and one half dollars in gold, first, second and third prizes without fear or favor will be awarded on measured mileage between your home and the center of town. Mileage tickets can be had at all the stores, flying the blue and white pennants.

Purchase Tickets

Your dealer has a supply of purchase tickets good in a cash prize contest for ten silver U. S. dollars.

Simply sign your name and secure the endorsement of the Dollar Day merchant as you pick up your bargains, take this same card from place to place and when your shopping is done drop same in box at corner of Campbell and Dunton streets in Arlington Heights and if you have scattered your custom in more places than any other shopper on this day you receive several pounds of free silver coin to dispose of as you please.

A gala event carefully planned and universal throughout Arlington Heights will be this first Arlington Heights, community dollar day.

Remember the date February 19, and keep your weather eye open for the big dollar supplement to next week's editions of your local newspapers.

Lieut. L. J. Laird Captures Bandit

Some time ago Mr. and Mrs. Henry Everett residing on the Glenview road, Glenview, upon returning to their home late in the evening, were held up by three men who demanded jewelry and money. Their requests were not complied with and Mr. and Mrs. Everett were then taken into the house and securely bound by the bandits, who repeating their demands for valuables, resorted to torturing their victims by burning them with cigars and cigarettes. However, the Everett's maintained silence until the leader of the tormenters approached and began applying an ice pick in place of the burning cigars. Then the victims weakened and the marauders made off with $7000 worth of jewelry, $1500 in bonds and $50 in cash.

This robbery was reported to the highway police station in East Maine and Lieutenant Laird at once began an investigation. Thru the aid of photos of men with police records which are on file at the station, suspicion was directed at one Wilbut S. Moore, of 1421 Greenleaf St., Wilmette. The Lieutenant arrested him and he was positively identified by Mrs. Everett as the man who had tortured her. Moore denied having anything to do with the robbery but was held over to the grand jury on $60,000 bonds.

Moore is 31 years of age, married and the father of two children and is a plumbing contractor. He had been arrested at three different times for burglaries and at one time had served 6 months in the house of correction. No clues have thus far been discovered as to the identity of his two companions.

Someone and Something

Someone has something that someone wants and if this some one would tell someone they had something to sell, then someone would buy something from someone and both would be happy 'tis true. Now if you are the someone who has something to sell or the someone who wants to buy something, just put a little want ad in this paper and someone will do something you like.

$15,000 Bonds? Easy, Here's Cash! And Captives Walk Free

"I will set your bonds at $10,000," said United States Commissioner Henry C. Beitler to Carl Endriss, who was arrested Friday night for violation of the prohibition law.

"And your bonds will be $5,000," continued the commissioner to T. Zimek.

Then half a dozen reporters, court attaches and attorneys got a shock of their lives when Endriss pulled a roll of bills from his pocket and peeled off ten $1,000 bills and said:

"This will take care of me," Peeling off five more bills he said, "This will take care of Zimek." The roll, still fat, was returned to the pocket and the two men walked out of court pending hearing of their case February 15.

Endriss and Zimek were arrested Friday night in a subterranean brewery beneath the padlocked Playgrounds roadhouse at River Grove.

In addition to criminal charges against the two men for violation of the prohibition laws, they will be prosecuted for contempt of court for violating injunction proceedings which had padlocked the premises. The property may be confiscated by the government.

At Arlington Theatre Next Week's Pictures

A motion picture production that is unique, in the fact that with the exception of a very few scenes, the entire action of the story takes place in a train, is at the Arlington theatre Sunday February 13.

It is "A Little Journey," a story by Rachel Crothers, adapted to the screen by Albert Lewin.

Bertha, the Sewing Machine Girl

J. Farrell MacDonald, cast as Madge Bellamy's father in "Bertha, the Sewing Machine Girl," an Irving Cummings' production for Fox films, at the Arlington Monday and Tuesday, Feb. 14 and 15, sleeps in soft beds these days, but he admits there were night when any old park bench looked pretty good.

"Bucking the Truth"

Real scenes of the famed Mojave desert will be served up to patrons of the Arlington Theatre Wednesday, Feb. 16, in "Bucking the Truth," the Universal Blue Streak Western starring Pete Morrison, which will be shown here

Mrs. Dorothea Hinz To be Buried Sunday

Mrs. Dorothea Hinz, nee Teufert of Arlington Heights, died Feb. 9, 1927, aged 73 years, 9 months, 12 days. The funeral will be held on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 at the St. Peter's church. Deceased was born in Pomerina, Germany, April 27, 1853. She came to America, when a young girl and was confirmed in Palatine by Rev. Graef. There remain to mourn their loss seven children: Carrie Wolf, William, Edward, Emma, Alma and Laura Heidon, 9 grandchildren and a brother, Charles Teufert.

Leopolds Celebrate Gold Anniversary of Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. G. Leupold of Mt. Prospect celebrated their golden wedding anniversary last Sunday, Feb. 6. They were married in Buffalo, N. Y., in 1877, and came to Chicago in 1879. They have lived in Ravenswood for over thirty years. The Leupolds have four children, Mr. Conrad Leupold, Mrs. William Norman, Mrs. B. Maas and Mrs. William Lockerbie. They also have seven grandchildren and two great grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. Leupold moved to Mt. Prospect two years ago. About 80 guests were present.

MRS. ANNA SOPHIE BOEGER

Mrs. Anna Sophie Boeger, nee Pohlman, was born, Oct. 5, 1876, near Palatine. Nov. 5 she was baptized, April 12, 1891 she was confirmed and April 16, 1899 she was married to Mr. Henry Boeger. She died Feb. 1, in the Palatine hospital of uremia, at an age of 50 years, 3 months and 26 days. The funeral service was held at the Lutheran church, Feb. 4. Rev. Poellot officiating. Interment was in the Lutheran cemetery. She leaves to mourn, her stepmother, an adopted daughter, three right brothers, one half brother, three stepbrothers and three stepsisters.

BEG PARDON

It was press time. The editor desired to give one more "boost" for the Community Players. Minutes counted. The item was written, without reference to the calendar. Upon the front page it went. The edition was out before the discovery was made that the article stated the second appearance of "Second Story Peggy" would be Friday night. It should have read Thursday night. If you missed seeing the show on account of this error, the editor expresses his regret. His intentions were right. It was a fine performance and an account of the show will appear in Tuesday's edition.

BOND ISSUE IS PROPOSED FOR NEW PRESERVE

Hon. Robert Scholes, speaker of the house of representatives, in discussing pending game and fish legislation, this week stated that the proposed bond issue for the purchase of public shooting and fishing grounds and preserves is one of the most popular measures presented in recent years.

House bill No. 14, introduced by Rep. Thomas Curran, of Chicago, chairmen of the appropriation committee, provides for the issuance of $20,000,000.00 of 4% bonds Proceeds of these bonds are to be used for the purchase of land for public shooting and fishing grounds and preserves. These lands are also to be open for use by the general public for camping, boating, swimming, hiking and similar recreations. Interest and retirement of principal will be paid by revenue of the Department of Conservation without direct taxation. This bill is now before the Fish and Game committee.

Speaker Scholes explained that he has been making speeches on conservation in many sections of the state, at meetings of sportsmen and civic clubs. The mention of the proposed bond issue, which is to be paid by revenue of the Department of Conservation, has invariably been greeted by tremendous applause and pledges of hearty support.

No increase in fees for resident hunting and fishing licenses should be required under four or six years from the time the bond issue is authorized, according to speaker Scholes. By that time between 150,000 and 200,000 acres of land will be owned by the state for public hunting and fishing grounds and game and fish preserves.

Express Gratitude for Generous Response

Arlington Heights has maintained its splendid membership in the Red Cross and has given generously at all times to help the disaster relief work of the Red Cross. Mrs. B. F. Crowley who was chairman of the Tenth Roll Call this year, emphasized the continued need of carrying on the welfare work with the ex-service man and the education of the public along the lines of first aid, life saving, home nursing, and Braille writing for the blind. A great and vital interest has been shown by individual women and groups from Arlington Heights who are volunteering their services regularly in the sewing of articles of clothing necessary for Red Cross relief in disasters and in caring for the families of disabled ex-service men.

Mrs. George A. McKinlock, roll call director of the Chicago Chapter, American Red Cross, has expressed her appreciation of the cooperation given by Mrs. Crowley, in charge of the local chapter's roll call in Arlington Heights, in the following letter:

"I wish to express the deep gratitude of your Red Cross chapter for your generous response to our Tenth Roll Call. Your loyalty and devotion to our work are evidenced by your splendid contribution and you may be assured it will be used to good purpose. We have needed the support of our friends more this year than ever before, because of the inroads, which the serious disasters have made in our resources. The Red Cross exists only through its faithful and constant individual membership.

With many thanks and all good wishes. Very cordially yours, (Signed) Mrs. George A. McKinlock, chairman, tenth annual roll call.

James W. Freeman, Palatine Resident Dies After Illness

Mr. J. W. Freeman, a resident of Palatine all of his life, except for a few years spent in Canada, died at his home in the village last Friday. Mr. Freeman had been ill for some time and his death was not unexpected. The deceased and his family have been prominent in the township for the past fifty years.

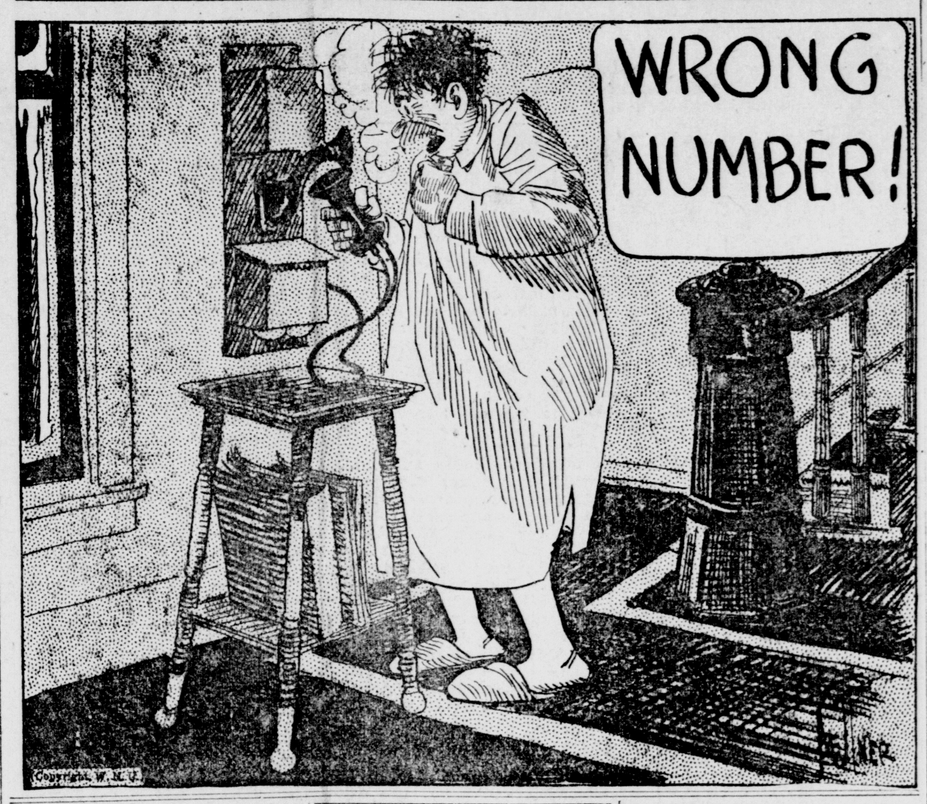

The funeral was held Tuesday, February 8, with a service at the late residence and burial at the southside cemetery, the Rev. Voeks officiating.

Obituary

James William Freeman was born April 16, 1853, at Deer Grove near Palatine, Ill. He was orphaned at the age of three years and was adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Gert Freye. He was reared on the Freye homestead, later the Freeman home, west of Palatine. He married Miss Marie Halfeldt at Palatine October 28, 1874. This union was a happy one and blessed with six children. Mr. Freeman lived on the old homestead except the few years of his sojourn in Canada. He moved to the village of Palatine May 17, 1926, and passed away there Friday, Feb. 4, 1927, at 10:45 in the evening at the age of 73 years, 9 months, 18 days.

He leave to mourn, his wife, Mrs. Marie Freeman, four sons; Henry of Valley, Neb.; Theodore of Barrington; George and Otto of Palatine; two daughters, Charlotte Mrs. Kampert, Barrington; Amanda, Mrs. Louis Luerssen, Palatine; 12 grand children; two sisters, Mrs. Webster and Mrs. Paige twin sisters of Barrington and 3 half brothers. Other relatives and a host of friends.

STATE APPROVES SUBURBAN WATER SUPPLY PROJECT

Plans of the Greater Chicago Lake Water company to supply water from Lake Michigan to towns within thirty-eight miles of Chicago's city limits have been approved by the Illinois commerce commission.

Under plans towns as far as Chicago Heights, Joliet, Elgin, and Lake Forest will be supplied with filtered lake water. Work on the project, estimated to cost about $35,000,000, will be started within a year and will be completed in three or four years, it is said.

Alternative Plans Drafted

Two plans for taking the water from the lake are under consideration, Mr. Dolan asserted last night.

One of these plans calls for the construction of a crib in the lake off 22d street. A tunnel would then be drilled through solid rock 160 feet below street level to Harlem avenue, where a large filtration plant with a pumping station would be built. From the pumping station the water would be distributed through large mains.

The other plan under consideration calls for the building of a crib off Glencoe and the drilling of a tunnel straight west for two or three miles to a filtration plant and pumping station.

Mr. Dolan said the cost of water on completion of the project will range from 7 cents to 13 cents per 1,000 gallons, the rate to be determined largely by the distance from the pumping station to the user.

Thousands to Be Employed

"This project will give employment to several thousand men," said Mr. Dolan.

"The suburban communities are growing rapidly with improved transportation facilities and good roads," he pointed out.

"These advantages have been off set, however, by the lack of good lake water. In view of the great period of thriving industry which promises to take place in the United States in the next ten years, the Chicago district, by reason of its location and natural advantages, must reap the greatest benefit.

"The demand for suburban homes and the industrial properties required for expansion are well known.

"Eminent men who are students of affairs have repeatedly called attention to the possibilities and probable growth of Chicago and surrounding communities. A population of 10,000,000 is often mentioned for the near future in the Chicago district."

Mr. Dolan said the use of Lake Michigan water will effect a considerable saving to the consumers, improve health conditions and lower fire insurance rates.

Palatine Quintet Loses Star Player

The pennant race of the Palatine Township high school may slow up a little. Ben Grandy, the star basket ball player of that team is probably out of the game for the rest of the season. He injured an ankle at the game with Franklin Park Tuesday. Franklin Park was defeated 24 to 16. Franklin Park is improving and Palatine did not have things entirely its own way.

Palatine journeyed to Burlington Wednesday night and played the Plato Center high school, losing to them by a score of 26 to 20. Plato Center recently lost the school by fire, necessitating the game being played at Burlington. Dalton Krise has taken Grandy's place in the team and is doing excellent work. The game Wednesday served as a good practice for the new line up in preparation for the game at Gurnee next Saturday.

DOG DERBY POSTPONED

The Dog Derby, billed for Saturday at Arlington Heights is necessarily postponed, unless snow arrives between Thursday afternoon, when this paper goes to press and the hour for the start of the Derby. The committee has tried its best to think up some way by which the Derby could be held. The storage of snow that was piled in the railroad park is gone.

The plan to "ice" the street was not considered feasible by the authorities. The Derby will be held after the first snow fall, notice of same will be made by posters and letters to all contestants. The V. F. W. and the Cook County Herald is just as much disappointed over the "summer weather" that has interferred with the plans as are the boys and the dogs. Some of these have gone to considerable expense to prepare their outfit. The spirit shown by the business men and individuals in offering prizes is to be commended. Many of them were made without any solicitation upon the part of the committee.

If you see snow flakes in the air, get out your dog.

Hold Up Men Take Life of Father of Dr. and Mrs. Dunn

Mr. Matson, father of Mrs. H. G. Dunn, who was killed by the bullet of hold up men, Saturday, Feb. 5th was buried Tuesday afternoon from the family home, 3739 West 65th Street. The inquest was held the previous day and continued until Thursday, at which time, all of the three men who were connected with the crime will be in custody and present.

Mr. Matson, a member of the firm of Matson & Rusek, contractors was in the office of the Everett Coal Co., when the robbers entered. He was there to talk over a contract for a building job. Upon being ordered to hold up their hands, Mr. Matson as well as the others did so. The presence of a policeman in the back of the room was unknown to the bandits. When he appeared, one of the men attempted to fire, but his gun refused to go off. This man later backed into a rear room and was caught in the alley by the policeman. The other two bandits began firing at the policeman, who replied with like fire. One of the bullets from a bandit's gun entered the back of Mr. Matson, who was at the rear of the policeman and passed near his heart. He fell to the floor and died a minute later. The two men made their escape. Their identity was learned from the captured bandit and all three will probably be indicted for murder. A statement was made at the inquest that more murders occurred in Chicago last year than in the countries of Italy, France and Germany, in a like period. All three of the captured men have police records.

Mr. Matson leaves a wife and five children, the eldest of whom is Mrs. Dunn of Arlington Heights.

Measles Cases Now Number Fifty At Arlington Heights

Health Officer R. H. Boeger of Arlington Heights is kept busy posting quarantine signs. There are about fifty cases of measles in the village at this time. There is only one new case of scarlet fever and that is a very mild one. There are also a few chicken pox cases. The health situation as regards scarlet fever is very encouraging. The efficient work of the nurse and and health authorities is bearing fruit.

SCOUT RALLY FRIDAY AT PARK RIDGE

All the troops in the entire district are prepared to come to Park Ridge this Friday and test their abilities against each other, which will uncover the real training the boys have had and will give each other an idea as to how his brother scout is trained. All of the contests will be under the watchful eyes of competent judges, and Mr. Landane, scout executive, will act as referee. The Maine township high school band will entertain with a few numbers and help in the opening and closing numbers. More can be said but we will leave it to the public to find out by attending the rally. The banner will be awarded to the troop having the greatest number of points total for the past three months, and an effort will be made to award the troop having the greatest number of points attained at the rally alone with an additional prize, which will be announced later.

Some fine window displays have been set up in the various stores in the district. Barrington will have one by Wednesday night, which we understand will be a knockout, and Palatine certainly has a good one also, and both troops 5 and 6 are not to be denied. Troop 6 has a camp scene with various handicraft articles shown and troop 5 has an exceptional display just a little bit different. The latter two are at Spieglers and Browns stores respectively.

At Barrington Monday night the Fathers and their Scout Sons enjoyed a very fine banquet, and after the banquet Mr. Schroeder acting as chairman called upon the scout executive and others to give short talks, and a very fine response was the result. The fathers really received after summing up all of the thoughts expressed some real ideas as to what scouting really meant and was and Barrington should profit by it by receiving increased support in every way.

Palatine troop also held a banquet for their fathers which was followed by practicing all of the contests which will be used at the rally. Speeches by Mr. Hugh Craton of DesPlaines and Commissioner of the district and Mr. Harrison Kincaid the fighting scoutmaster, were made, which received loud applauses. The Lions club of Palatine have offered their troop $100 if they bring back with them the rally banner, and they certainly mean to step out for it realizing that several other troops are right at their heels all the time.

At Arlington Heights in the M. E. church on Wednesday night a banquet was held for all the fathers and sons in the town. The ministers throughout the district responded very nicely, when they arranged and had special services for the scouts last Sunday.

As a last announcement the Lions' club, DesPlaines are holding a banquet and court of honor next Tuesday at 6:15 p. m. Tickets are $1.00 for adults and 50 cents per boy and can be secured at the Behrens Realty Co., 1496 Miner St., DesPlaines, or phone your reservation or write in for it to the above address or the scout headquarters room 7, 706 Center St., Phone 3114-W. As advised the Rockford council of boy scouts are coming with a special electric arch which will depict scouting in a beautiful manner and will be worth the price of admission alone. All fathers and scouts from the entire district are invited to come.

CELEBRATE HUNDREDTH BIRTHDAY

Next Monday, Valentine day, is the 100th birthday for Grandma Phillips, of Schiller Park. She is looking forward to that event as happy and as excited as a young girl over her arrival at school age. Mrs. Phillips can remember her school days and a lot of other things about the days when she was a young lady and later when she came to Leyden township fifty-five years ago. Those memories are as fresh to her as tho they were yesterday. Blessed with wonderful bodily health and a memory, she already has a cheery greeting for all who enter her room at the residence of Frank J. Phillips, where she makes her home. It is only a short distance from the Phillips homestead where she lived from 1872 until December 1925.

Coming of a long lived family, Grandma Phillips is not surprised that she is to be a centenarian. Her father lived to be 112 years old, but she does not hope to equal such a record. To use her own words, "I hope the good Lord will take me long before that time; I realize the care that I am to others." Yet those who care for her do it joyfully. They are rather proud of grandma. It was there that our reporter found a bit of "New England", hospitality. Grandma was born a Britisher, just 15 years after England and United States had their last war in 1812. Upon coming to America, she located at Pennsylvania, later Chicago and then Norwood Park. She brought out to the "wilds" west of Chicago her inherent belief in a happy home life and that same spirit still reins supreme in any household that Grandma is in. Her family still reside near at hand. One son resides in Chicago; the others only a short distance from the Phillips homestead.

When asked if the life of a farmers' wife did not call forth a lot of hard work during those earlier days, she expressed surprise. That any one would think so. She had four sons to look after her and see that mother did not do more than her share of work. Death has only entered the family twice; once to take a small daughter and the other time to take the father.

Grandma and St. Valentine will celebrate together next Monday. Her friends are planning a shower of greetings and postals. There will be a hugh cake with one hundred lighted candles thereon. A few close friends will be permitted to say "howdie" but otherwise her friends and neighbors will have to be content in celebrating the event, with thoughts and best wishes for the little lady that is in tht upstairs room of the Frank J. Phillips home. Grandma must preserve her strength. She has seldom been ill, but when a hundred years are upon ones head, that person does not feel justified in having a gay birthday party and beside that room is not big enough to hold all those who would want to be present.

Norwood Park and Leyden township are to be congratulated upon the honor that comes their way next Monday. This paper expects to give a full account of Mrs. Phillips life in next Tuesday's issue.

Christ F. Moehling Of Des Plaines Dies

Mr. Christ F. Moehling, a brother of John C. Moehling of Arlington Heights, died at the Memorial Lutheran hospital, Chicago, Tuesday, Feb. 8, aged 82 years, 1 month 13 days. The funeral will be held Sunday, Feb. 13, at his late home in DesPlaines at two o'clock, with interment in the Lutheran Town of Maine cemetery.

Mr. Moehling was born in Haste Hessen, Germany, Dec. 26, 1844, and came to America, with his parents in 1849. The family settled in Elk Grove near the present Elk Grove church. He later moved to Lake County, Indiana, but in 1865 moved back to Cook county. He married Miss Emma Walkenhauer, of Addison in 1873 and moved to DesPlaines in the fall of 1909. Five children and his wife preceeded him in death. Those remaining to mourn their loss are two daughters, Amanda Linneweh, and Emma; four sons, Albert, William, Emil and Marten, two brothers, Conrad of DesPlaines and John of Arlington Heights, and six grandchildren.

Mt. Prospect to Have Tractor for Village

The village of Mt. Prospect, the smallest of any of the villages in this section of the county, judging from a population standpoint, is near the front ranks as regards modern methods. The village board at its last meeting decided to purchase a caterpillar type tractor to be used in cleaning streets, opening ditches and operating a snow plow for both streets and side walks. That last statement is what shows progress. In the earlier days all villages had a community snow plow pulled by a horse. For some reason that custom has been thrown into the discard, until now Mt. Prospect installs machinery that will keep its citizens from being snow bound after heavy snow falls. The autoist and pedestrian will hereafter have an equal chance in Mt. Prospect.

BOYS AND DADS PLAY TOGETHER

The M. E. Church banquet hall was jammed with a crowd of fathers and sons Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock, the occasion being the annual fathers' and sons' banquet. The fathers had as good a time as did their sons and in fact some of them were decidedly as kiddish. It was a great night and one that speaks well for the fathers and sons of Arlington Heights. With such a co-operative spirit on the part of the fathers, the boys can not be far from being the right kind of boys. There were less than a dozen boys who did not have some "father" to sit beside them. These few were well taken care of by Wm. Harth, who has a heart for boys and there was room for all of them that he gathered about his table.

The banquet itself was all that it should be. The mothers had seen to that. Mr. T. Wilson. acted as toastmaster and he lighted the fuses that set off the "fire works." There were no duds there that evening.

Moving pictures were taken with the aid of a coffee grinder of all the celebrities present. It was the first time some of these fellows have been before a "coffee grinder" and they were quite frustrated by the notoriety they received.

There is not very much of a jump between the pulpit and film land. Rev. Billman is a good preacher and he proved himself that evening to be a good film director. A three reel thriller was filmed that evening. Scout Erickson was the camera man who ground out the groundless coffee as the characters, picked from the audience, stepped before the spot light and "did their stuff." The story dealt with the capture of two maidens by the Indians and their rescue. Steeds of wood carried both the Indians and cowboys. There was a real western thrill to the picture and the actors, who had no previous knowledge of the parts they were to play that evening, entered into the parts with a vim that showed that we all have some barbarian instinct.

There was a lot of singing by both the dads and sons the honors being about evenly divided.

The evening was not all play. Mr. W. O. Lewis, treasurer of the Sears Roebuck Co., gave a wonderful talk. He is a great friend of boys and directed his talk to them. Honesty, first, last and all the time, the effect of white lies, the lives that are wrecked by dishonesty, were brought out by Mr. Lewis.

"How to be a good father to a son," has caused many a dad to do a lot of thinking. Some dads shirk the thinking, but Richard Best in his talk on, "What I Expect of My Dad," gave a recipe that is easy for dads to take. Here it is, "Be fair, generous and helpful and remember that you were once a boy." The boys had the last word that night and he followed an outline by Dr. Best on, "What I Expect of My Boy." "Trustworthy, truthful and obedience;" were the qualifications of a good son, according to Dr. Best. It is certain that every father present agreed with Dr. Best on these points.

Scout Executive Landane gave a short talk on scoutcraft. In honor of scout week, about 35 scouts were present in uniform. The evening closed with cheers for the ladies and the speakers for their talks.

Boy Invents Automatic Headlight Dimmer

Edwin R. Heimsoth, of Arlington Heights has secured a patent rom the U. S. Government for an automatic headlight dimmer. Its principal of operation is simple after it is understood. There are many auto accessories that are automatic, but there is prabably none that will be as great a boom to the man who drives at night as this one. The principal upon which it operates is that the rays from the lights of an approaching auto so effects the headlight mechanism of the car that is equipped with the invention, that the lights upon the latter car are dimmed. As soon as the rays of the other car cease to enter the mechanism, the lights automatically increase to their full power. The inventor is only 16 years of age and has already received many inquiries about the invention. The boy is an orphan and his friends hope that he will be able to profit financially by the invention.

PUBLIC NOTICE

All motor cars and trucks must display 1927 state license also 1927 village vehicle tax by March 1st. To avoid arrest, please comply.

Basketball Tonight

A. H. T. H. S. will clash with the Leyden Twp. high school in the local gym this evening. It is a doubleheader contest with the lightweight game scheduled for 7:30 p. m.

Leyden has been coming strong lately with several notable victories to her credit and a good game is predicted.

It will be the last game on the Arlington Heights floor until March 7 and there should be a good turnout.

Skokie Valley Noble Farm Subdivided

The seventy-five acre farm belonging to the George Noble estate on the north side of Dundee road and on both sides of the new Skokie Valley interurban line was sold yesterday to an eastern syndicate, title being taken by R. E. Read. The price, according to Lewis T. Dodds, manager of the north shore office of Quinlan & Tyson, the only broker in the deal, was $272,574 or approximately $3,634 an acre.

The property has been in possession of the Noble family for sixty years. The sellers are Mrs. Ellen Noble, widow of George Noble; her daughter, Margaret and three sons, Ralph, Walter, and William.

Storm Water Sewer Receives a Setback

The storm water sewer for Glenview received one more set back in a second adjourned public hearing to Wednesday, Feb. 16.

Armed with petitions purporting to bear a greater majority of property owners assessed for direct benefits, the opposing members of the proposition carried the motion for adjournment.

Trustee Coons sought as a purely political move to delay the hearing until April just prior to the village election. This was overruled by a substitute motion made by Trustees Scalbom to continue the hearing next Wednesday, Feb. 16.

Following the objections of opposing property owners which ran the gamut of prices, size and location of the sewer, Mayor McCullen expressed his position in the matter before calling upon the board members for individual expression of the matter.

For the benefit of those attributing the desire of a storm water sewer as a purely McCullen move he reviewed in detail the work of the board regarding the matter as long as three years ago, when the board members who stood for the improvement reluctantly allowed the matter to be deferred at the mayor's suggestion.

Both trustees Voelk and Scalbom reverted to their pledge of giving the people the improvement and announced their stand for it.

Trustees Lamburg and Bartling following the lead of Coons voted to postpone the hearing until a check up on the names on the petition could be made, Landendorf, also voting aye, the motion prevailed.

Following the motion to set the date at Feb. 16, Trustee Ladendorf expressed himself for progress for the village and a wish to know if a change in the location of the sewer would satisfy the objectors.

A move is being made to stop progress in the village whether through the wish to serve the people honestly or as a political move remains to be seen.

Glenview has always had objectors to every progressive move and it is to be hoped that now in the zenith of her development, that storm water sewers, and paved streets can not be blocked by unprogressive citizens backed by trustees motivated solely by politics.

NILES CENTER

St. Paul's Ladies Aid sewing circle will meet in the assembly room of the church Monday, Feb. 21. The hostesses at the last meeting were Mesdames Eggert, Detzer, Deu and Behnke.

Niles Center St. Peter's Evangelical Church

Make your date for the great concert at St. Peter's Evangelical Church.

The Young Peoples League decided to have the Elmhurst Glee club give a concert Friday, Feb. 25 8 p. m. No other assembly hall having a large enough platform for this large body of singers, it was decided to have this concert in church.

The Elmhurst Glee Club consists of 40 male voices selected from a body of 180 students of Elmhurst College. The director, Prof. Mirnma head of the school of music has an excellent ability of selecting and training good voices. You will hear some singing at this concert as you have never heard before in Niles Center.

Christened, Charlotte Irene Greta, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Hammerstrom. Sponsors were: Margaret Henning and Daeser Steinhaff.

The twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Klehm celebrate their birthdays, Feb. 9, annually. Last year Pearl, Mrs. Armin Mayer did the honors at her home in Niles Center. Wednesday Feb. 9, 1927 it was Ruby, Mrs. Elmer Galitz' turn to entertain their relatives and friends of school girl days at their home in Evanston. She served a choice chop suey supper to the party of 32 after which they played "500" at tables. It was a happy bunch. Messrs and Mesdames Elmer Galitz, Armin Mayer, Ed. Klehm, H. Harms, Peter Baumhart, Raymond Klehm, Frank Maierhoffor, Harry Remke, Mr. Geo. Klehm, Arthur Stielow, John Ross, Dr. and Mrs. Paul Allen, Elsie Koelner, Erna Koelner. The twins, aged 33, could not fool the guests by the two cakes, one with 16 and the other 17 which added made 33.

The prize winners for ladies were: Mrs. Frank Noettling, first; Miss Elsie Stielow, second; Mrs. Pearl Armin, third; Mrs. Raymond Klehm, fourth.

Gents, Frank Mauerhoefer, first; Arthur Stielow, second; John Ross, third; Edward Klehm, fourth.

Glenview Methodist Episcopal Church

At the morning service of worship Sunday, Feb. 13, the adult choir will make its debut, singing the anthem, "Exalt His name together," by Heyser.

There will be no evening service.

Monday night at the Metz home the Young People's Choir will rehearse.

Wednesday evening at the parsonage the adult choir practices for the concert.

Friday, March 4 is taken. Mark your calendars. The Ladies Aid will tell you about it later—but—save the night.

How many people look upon the church as an institution from which they can get something? How many people look upon God as one from whom they can ask for things? God knows we need spiritual blessings, and we need the services of the church, but—how much richer our lives would be if we thought of the church as an institution through which we could give service; and of God as our Father to whom we could offer something, instead of always asking? We can offer God our cooperation in the building of His kingdom upon earth, right here in Glenview. Does God know He can depend on you?

NEW EXCHANGE IN RIVER GROVE NOW IN SERVICE

The new telephone exchange at River Grove, built especially to care for the telephone service of subscribers in River Grove, Elmwood Park, Franklin Park and Schiller Park, was cut over into service last Saturday, February 5. The cut over took place when the traffic through the exchange area was at its minimum and was accomplished by throwing a switch. The actual time of the operation was less than half a minute, and, but for the fact that all subscribers had been notified that telephone service in this area would be rendered through the new exchange, no one would have known of the event.

The only change made in the new exchange was the changing of the prefixes of subscribers in Schiller Park and Elmwood Park. The exchange has only two prefixes now—Franklin Park and Schiller Park subscribers taking Franklin Park as their telephone prefix; and River Grove and Elmwood Park subscribers taking River Grove as their prefix.

The exchange is centrally located at River Grove, in the wire center of the telephone service area for the four communities, and is built of fire proof material suitable for telephone service requirements. The switchboard is of common battery type, equal to Chicago service equipment, with 25 operators serving the territory. The whole central office equipment is new, including battery and machinery and cabling.

The exchange has a rest room, tastefully laid out, for the use of the operators when not on duty, and all the up-to-date facilities usually installed in Metropolitan areas.

Near East Relief for Saint Valentine's Day

For the fourth consecutive year, school children throughout Illinois and the United States are preparing a renewal of a pretty sentiment, an international observance of St. Valentine's Day.

Instead of the exchange of lacey gee-gaws with expressions of love, they will make this February 14, a date for a more substantial demonstration of their affection toward their less fortunate brothers and sisters of their own age in the orphanages in the Bible Lands and in the refugee camps of Greece.

As in the past three years, pupils in the public schools of Illinois will send greetings abroad in the shape of seventeen pennies each, or more, to be donated toward the support of the fatherless and motherless little ones of the Near East. The seventeen cents is sufficient to feed, clothe and educate one of these little wards of America for a day and hundreds of children in the U. S. will forego their trip to the movies next week to save that amount to be sent overseas.

Committees have been formed in every county in the state and principals and teachers are co-operating with the state committee of the Near East relief of which former Governor Lowden is chairman in the collection of the Valentine fund.

Recent dispatches from the near east indicate that St. Valentine's day would be a cheerless occasion without this remembrance from America. There are 36,000 orphaned children in the charge of Near East relief, solely dependent upon the philanthropy of Americans.

Massacres, earthquakes and disease have rendered these children homeless and helpless and now they are looking forward to a new message of cheer from this country where has been keeping them

LEYDEN HIGH SCHOOL GYM OPENS DOORS

A capacity crowd turned out last Friday night to witness three basket ball games which celebrated the opening of the new Leyden high school gym. The people of Franklin Park and the surrounding towns are very proud of the new school and well they might be too. The only way they can show their appreciation is by backing up the athletic department in the future as they did Friday night. The athletic department is glad to announce that they cleared $113.00 the first night. With such cooperation the school board will soon be able to furnish the students with every form of modern athletics. The crowd witnessed a hard fight between the Leyden lights and Bensenville lights. Leyden won by a small score. Then the crowd was treated to a little diversion in the form of a game between Dutch Marten's "All Stars" and Ed. Popps "Has Beens". The All Stars proved to be a little too flat footed for the "Has Beens". It was sure comical to see the Has Beens with their pouchy stomachs, short wind and lumbering feet trying to keep up with Dutch's men. Even Mr. Baker the principal gave up at the end of the first quarter.

Then the bunch were given the real treat of the evening. Leyden's heavies vs. Bensenville heavies. It was a real snappy clean and hard fought game with Leyden coming out on top in the end. They have some interesting games scheduled for Wednesday, Friday and Saturday night. Let's back the boys up. They can play to an audience a lot better and support gives them confidence. Let's go!

The daily ration of the American soldier is raised from thirty-five to forty cents. The extra nickel must be for the can opener.

Cause of Fire at Palatine Unknown

The origin is unknown of the fire last Thursday that partially destroyed the residence owned by Mrs. Minnie Burkhardt, corner of Washington and Greely streets, Palatine. The fire started in the interior and an examination of the chimney shows no defects. The suggestion has been made that defective electric wiring may be to blame. Insurance was carried in the DesPlaines Mutual Insurance Co., which immediately adjusted the loss.

Dr. and Mrs. Pfaff and Alice Arndt were delightfully entertained at a six o'clock dinner by Rev. and Mrs. Voeks Feb. 2, the occasion being Mrs. Pfaff's birthday.

Miss Virginia Runde of DesPlaines was accorded a birthday party last Saturday afternoon at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Taylor. Bunco was played by the young ladies, the afternoon's enjoyment ending with a six o'clock supper.

BUS COMPANY TO OPERATE IN BENSENVILLE

At the village board meeting held Feb. 4, Mr. Liedel of the DuPage Motor Bus Company, who are now operating a line in Elmhurst, spoke to the board in regard to a franchise to operate their Elmhurst line into and through Bensenville. As pointed out by Mr. Liedel their object is not to operate a bus line into the city because no bus line could expect to compete with the railroads of Elmhurst or Bensenville in carrying passengers into the city. Their idea is to carry people between the two towns, to and from the depots the same as a street car system would. He pointed out the facts that the land lying between Bensenville and Elmhurst is sure to build up and just how fast, depends on the transportation secured to serve the new residents. Bensenville should expand south this spring and Elmhurst is sure to come further north with her boundry line. These new subdivisions need transportation to one or the other of the depots leading to Chicago. Our railroads from both towns are furnishing ample train service for the present and there is no doubt but what more service will be established as it is needed. The village board were so favorably impressed with the proposition that they made a recommendation to the Illinois State Commission having the power to grant the state franchise, that same be granted. If the franchise is granted the bus line will be in operation between Bensenville and Elmhurst about March 1. The route will be on York street and will pass the east entrance of Bensenville's new Community high school, the Orphan home and C. M. & St. P. Ry. depot and the business zone of Bensenville. A schedule will be arranged that will best serve patrons arriving and departing from depots in both towns. The bus company were to have made their request for the franchise of the state commission Tuesday and we will soon know the outcome.

Many New Books at Palatine Library

Many pleasant things have happened at the library.

Mr. J. A. Burlingame, a member of the library board has donated a very interesting parchment, nicely framed. This parchment is a replica of a notice posted in the days of the American Revolution and is a call for volunteers to join the American Army under General Washington. The wording is very quaint and the printing the old style with the use of the long S. We are indeed fortunate to possess it.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Schlenker have given a fine book on the basket making of the American Indians. Baskets used by the different tribes for various uses are all illustrated and the method of making clearly shown.

The library board recently purchased what is called the fiftv-dollar "Boy Scout Book Shelf." In this collection of books there are, merit badge pamphlets, books on the varied phases of scout craft nature books, biography and friction. Our scouts are enjoying them. By the way a scout carried the books from the postoffice to the library. It proved a rather heavy bundle for a rather small boy but when offered compensation for his services he immediately replied, "no! I am a scout. That is just a good turn."

Mrs. Greener, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Senne and the librarian spent a busy, interesting afternoon on Friday cataloging and arranging the new books recently purchased by the library board. There are over fifty books in this recent purchase and it includes many things the greater number this time being fiction for both adult and juvenile sections and some charming books illustrated in color for our little pepole.

When the library opened on Saturday there were over fifty new books on the shelves when it closed over forty of these were out. The total circulation for the day was 116. As our patrons become more acquainted with the good things on the shelves we notice a constantly increasing use of the reference books.

Bryant's library of Poetry and Song which contains the best in poetry from the time of Chances to the present day is a help to the English students. Two seventh graders found "Sea Poems" in it on Saturday. The high school pupils and the grade pupils are finding many books for book reports.

"Mib" Players Cause Of Auto Accident

Aron Anderson, a high school boy attending the Palatine township high school was driving a Chevrolet car near the school house Wednesday afternoon, when he suddenly came upon some boys playing marbles upon the pavement. To avoid hitting them, he swerved his car to one side and hit, Mrs. Kretschmer, mother of Mrs. John Senne. Mrs. Kretschmer was crossing the street and was near the sidewalk when she was hit and thrown to the ground with such force that she sustained a cut in the head and bruises about the body.

W. R. C. BUNCO PARTY

Sutherland W. R. C. No. 89 will give a bunco party in Odd Fellows hall, Palatine, Thursday evening, Feb. 10, commencing at 8 o'clock. Tickets, including lunch, are 35c. Everybody welcome.

Charles Chaplin is reported to have surrendered to the tax collectors. Taxes appear to be keeping up their end equally with their noted partner in the ancient surety business.

DuPage Conservency District Is Lost

The voters of northern DuPage County last Saturday cast their unqualified disapproval of the organization of the proposed DuPage Conservancy district. The villages of Bensenville, Roselle and Itasca, cast votes from 106 to 266 against the proposition to 5 to 12 in favor of the district. The total votes were 421 to 750, losing by nearly two to one. The city of Elmhurst fostered the district and it is reported that a new petition has been filed for a new district that will omit Bensenville, which cast such a huge vote against it last Saturday. The vote in Bensenville was 5 to 366; Itasca, 9 to 166; Roselle 12 to 106.

While Salt Creek might be a good drainage canal for a part of the prosposed district the voters in this part of the field could see no good reason why we should want to become a part of a drainage district that would mean forcing our surface water up hill as Salt Creek is higher than the highest point in Bensenville. The majority of votes at all points except Villa Park was heavy against the proposition and Villa Park, the ones to be most benefited by the move only carried in favor by 136 votes, not enough to begin to offset the votes cast against it in the other precincts. Little was known about the proposition till a few days before the ballot was taken when it began to get noised around just what a vote in favor of it would mean and it was then that people began to study and talk of what was about to be put over and it was clearly seen that the move should be defeated and it was.

NOTICE FOR BIDS FOR A TRACTOR OF THE CRAWLER TYPE.

Bids will be received by the Board of Trustees of the Village of Mount Prospect at eight o'clock P. M., on March 1, 1927, at the Village hall in the village of Mount Prospect, for a tractor of the crawler type of not less than 10-20 horse power with 8 inch pulley, delivered at the Village of Mount Prospect. The tractor is to be used for general work, such a cleaning streets, operating a snow plow for both streets and sidewalks, opening ditches and as auxiliary power for the pumping plant.

Auto Oil for Pigs

Oil drained from the crank case of an automobile effectively destroys lice on hogs, says the United States Department of Agriculture. It may be poured into the hog wallow when the weather is mild. During cold weather, however, it is best to sprinkle the oil on the hogs with a sprinkling can, making a number of light applications at intervals of about ten days. Don't cover the hogs thoroughly with oil at one time. Apply some of the oil to their ears with a swab, as the lice may lay eggs inside the ears.

New Ski Slide At Racine, Wis.

Ski enthusiasts of the North Shore territory between Chicago and Milwaukee have had this sport brought to their very door with the dedication at Racine, Wis., Sunday, Jan. 30, of the new $3,000 steel slide erected by the Racine Ski club with the backing of the Racine Association of Commerce.

Jumpers of note from Milwaukee Chicago, Oconomowoc, Madison and other middle west cities will participate in the dedicatory ceremonies. Gustave Lindboe of Chicago, Executive Secretary of the National Ski Association, dedicated the slide. The dedication program was at 1:15 p. m.

The first tournament on the new grounds is scheduled for Sunday, Feb. 13. At that time several of the country's foremost riders will compete for honors These will include Harvey Nilsen, 2011 North Karlov Ave., Chicago, the 10-year-old "boy wonder of America" and winner of the boys' event at Palos Park, Chicago, last year; his father Karl Nilsen, for many years captain of the Norge Ski Club of Chicago and one of the best Class A riders in the game; and Sven Wellhaven, the only man to win the Holmenkolmen tourney twice and adjudged the most graceful rider in the country in 1923 and 1924.

The slide is 75 feet high and has a gradient which sends the rider from the take-og at terrific speed. It surmounts a hill 63 feet high, and the general terrain makes it an ideal location both from the standpoint of the riders and the spectators

Located just west of Racine, the grounds are ideally situated from the standpoint of transportation. The tracks of the Chicago North Shore and Milwaukee railroad, the North Shore Line are within 200 feet of the slide Arrangements are being made by the North Shore Line to furnish special service directly to the grounds for the big tournament on Feb. 13.

A. J. Barth is president, and J. E. Peterson, secretary of the Racine Ski Club. According to Mr. Peterson, present indications point to a large entry list for the initial tournament. Among those who have signified their intentions of being present and participating in the event are 25 members of the Norge Ski Club of Chicago. Entry lists are still open.

The seed of some vegetables may be kept for several seasons without serious loss of vitality. The common vegetables may be grouped into three lots. Beans, corn, onions, parsley, parsnips, peas, and salsify retain their vitality for the shortest period and should be used with caution after one year old. Beets, cabbage, carrots, cauliflower celery, kale, Kohl-rabi, lettuce, peppers, radishes, spinich, tomatoes, and turnips are good for as much as three years or even longer but here again older seed should be used only after a germination test. A few others, chiefly melons, cucumbers and egg plants retain their vitality for long periods, sometimes as much as seven or more years, but the same caution should be observed in using these.

Set only fresh eggs. Eggs for hatching begin to deteriorate when they are about five days old. None of the eggs should be held over 7 to 10 days if possible. Eggs over 3 weeks old usually will not hatch.

Frozen silage generally causes colic in horses and mules and shouldn't be fed on this account.

MILK RETEST ORDER ISSUE BY BUNDESEN

So that there may be no letting down of the bars against milk from diseased cattle, Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, commissioner of health, has ordered that no milk be delivered in the city from herds which have not been retested for tuberculosis within six months of the last positive test, he let it be known Tuesday. This affects seven counties, and roughly 2,900 herds of cattle.

Thus many Illinois farmers whose herds were tested—and the diseased cattle slaughtered—now face shutting off their market, for in numerous cases the end of the six months period is near at hand. Not a few herds already have been cut off, it was stated.

"We have made Chicago's milk supply the best in the country," said the health commissioner. "We intend to keep it so, and will insist that all cattle supplying our citizens and babies with milk shall be tested regularly as required by law."

Reports from the seven northern Illinois counties in the Chicago area indicate that the tuberculosis program is progressing at a snail's pace. Hundreds of farmers have signed applications for the test, it was learned, and are clamoring in vain for it.

Farmers with tested herds on which the retest is overdue are anxiously awaiting it, for they have been told that straggling infection, not caught in the first test, may spread rapidly within the herds unless the retest is made promptly.

Lack of funds cannot be blamed for the delay, it was declared for the state treasury is supposed to hold $500,000 of the $2,000,000 appropriated two years ago for the purpose of indemnifying farmers for slaughtering their diseased cattle. Only $1,500,000 has been spent in the campaign, it was learned. The federal government has given an additional $715,000 in one year, of which $200,000 is still available to carry its half of the burden.

When the program was actively launched, following Dr. Bundesen's ban on impure milk a year ago, the state department of agriculture, under the direction of Gov. Small, took complete control of the work, which had previously been directed by the federal government, thru Dr. John Lintner, federal veterinarian.

Since the change all the work has been under the supervision of D. W. Robinson, state superintendent of the division of animal industry, and S. J. Stanard, director of the state department of agriculture.

It had been confidently expected that the $2,000,000 would be exhausted within a few months after the work was begun, and it had even been suggested that a special legislative session be called to make an emergency appropriation.

Now, with the legislature about to make a new appropriation bill, there is $500,000 still in the fund, and farmers fear that the assembly will balk against providing a large new allotment for the anti-tuberculosis campaign.

Unless the retesting proceeds at a faster pace some 2,900 herds whose owners had them tested so their product would be accepted by the Chicago health department will have passed the six months limit. Automatictlly, under Commissioner Bundeson's ruling, the milk from these herds must be shut off. There are approximately 50,000 cattle in the 2,900 herds, it was declared.

Second Pastor to Be Called to St. Peter's Church

The congregation of St. Peter's Lutheran church, of Arlington Heights decided last Sunday to call a second pastor to serve the American speaking families of the parish. This will mean that there will be "double headers" every Sunday morning. The services in German will begin early, followed by like services in the English language.

Henry Klaus, Resident Of Itasca, Passes Away

Mr. Henry Klaus, 81 years old, of Itasca died Wednesday after an illness of three weeks. The funeral will be held Friday at one o'clock at the residence and from there to St. John's church. Deceased leaves two sons, a daughter and a host of friends.

ITASCA

Thursday evening, Feb. 3, in the local village hall, the regular meeting of the Itasca Masonic club was held under the leadership of H. R. Owen former vice president of the north side Masonic club and instructor of Integrity and Comfort lodges of Chicago as instructor. Visiting brethern are welcomed at all meetings.

Board of Local Improvements

At the meeting of the village board Tuesday Feb. 1, several engineers submitted sealed proposals for a general survey of the sewer project. After due consideration the board of local improvement recommended to the village board that the proposal of Hancock & Co. be accepted. It is understood that this is not letting a contract for a sewer system but is a preparatory investigation to ascertain the best solution of the sewer problem.

The H. T. M. club will entertain their husbands Saturday evening, Feb. 12, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Franzen.

At the February meeting of the Itasca Woman's club Tuesday, Feb. 8, Dr. Wilbe's G. Little of Chicago gave a talk on "Child Welfare." The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. L. W. Chessman, Mrs. Edith Burger of Chicago gave several very pleasing readings. Refreshments were served by the hostess assited by Mrs. Ginsberg, chairman of the Child Welfare committee of the club.

Miss Ermaa Beninger was hostess to a party of friends at her home Sunday evening in honor of her sixteenth birthday. Games and music were enjoyed. Prizes were won by Rosina Tegtmeier, Clara Biegel, Adeline Baruth and Otto Fisher. Many gifts and birthday wishes were received by the young hostess who has recently finished a business course at Luther Institute Chicago and has accepted a position in the office of Fuller-Morrison Co., Chicago.

Several months ago the Woman's club circulated a petition asking the C. M. & St. P. railroad to put lights in their station here. The request has at last been granted and workmen have wired the station and now night patrons of the road will not have to stumble in the dark.

We are sorry to report that Grandpa Klaus who recently celebrated his 81st birthday is seriously ill at the home of his son William, north of Itasca.

The election for or aginst making Salt Creek a conservancy district brought out much discussion and quite a large vote. The result was 648 against and 409 for. There were 7 votes for it in Itasca and 9 in Bensenville.

H. F. Lawrence who underwent a second and serious operation at Oak Park Hospital is slowly gaining although not allowed to have visitors yet. His daughter Mrs. E. P. Leick of Carrollton, Ill., who was called here by the serious illness of her father returned home Wednesday.

The February meeting of the Itasca P. T. A. was held Monday evening at the school an interesting program was enjoyed. Miss Odean gave a paper on the "Recreation problem" and Mr. Andrew Madsen one on "A Fathers Share in the Education of the Child." Miss Gronewald gave two very pleasing piano solos. A nominating committee was appointed at this meeting to report at the March meeting when it is expected our regional director Mrs. Hautch of Glenn Ellyn will be the speaker. The secretary Mrs. Kroeger read an article on the need of using toxin-antitoxin for making young children immune from diphtheria.

Mrs. Olke of Wheaton spent Friday with Miss Grace Lawrence, who is confined to her home by illness. Mrs. Olke and Miss Lawrence were classmates in the Wheaton high school.

Plan to hear the Swiss Bell Ringers at the village hall Saturday evening, Feb. 19. It will be worth while.

Mrs. Harry Dohe and daughter Loraine of Wooddale were guests of Mrs. Wm. Gronemier Thursday.

Walter Wischstadt, who is a freshman in the Elgin high school is named as one in 20 who are on the December roll of honor. Having an average of 90 or over in all subjects. Dorothy Pierce and Anne Lauterbach are the sophomores who are on the honor roll for the first semester.

Walter Eggleston of Oak Park spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs. Ruth Eggleston.

Mrs. Anna Peterson, "The Radio Lady" of the People's Gas Light and Coke Co., will give a free demonstration of "Cakes and Icings and Deep Fat Frying" at the Itasca Village Hall Friday, Feb. 18, 1927 at 2:00 p. m. sharp, under the auspices of the Itasca Woman's Club.

The fire department was called out Tuesday evening about 8 o'clock when the roof of the H H Franzen residence was discovered on fire. It is believed to have been caused from the chimney burning out. The blaze was soon extinguished with small damage.

Granpa Klaus died at the home of his son William, Tuesday after an illness of two week. He had just passed his 81st birthday. Death was due to heart disease. The funeral takes place from the house to Rev. Plassman's church Friday.

Miss Erma Benninger entertained twenty-five of her friends Sunday evening in honor of her 16th birthday. The evening was spent in playing games and partaking of delicious refreshments.

The Itasca Woman's Club

The Itasca Woman's club held its regular February meeting at the home of Mrs. Len Chessman on Tuesday. The program was in charge of Mrs. Ginsberg, chairman of Child Welfare. She introduced as speaker. Dr. W. G. Little of the Municipal Sanitarium, Chicago. He entered his work there eleven years ago and with the exception of two years service with the Medical Detachment of Regiment 334 Infantry, has been with it ever since. His talk on Child Welfare was based on these years of active experience. He contracted the comparative ease attending child raising on the farms, a decade ago, with the intricate problems which grow out of the fast complicated age in which any children live. With life so complex, the child hasn't a fair chance.

One particularly interesting situation which has grown out of the congested conditions of the big city was called by Dr. Little, "The Aristocratic Ghetto." In the one, two and three room apartments of the wealthy "Gold Coast" of Chicago, tuberculosis is alarmingly on the increase. These tiny apartments have given rise to a new problem as the touched briefly a pre-nutau case and the care of the very young child on the causes of rickets and its cure. He very emphatically warned against the idea, prevalent among our grandparents that "all children must have whooping cough etc., and the sooner its over the better." He enumerater the serious after effects of these diseases and pointed out that the duty of the parents is the prevent them if possible. He heartily endorsed regular physical examinations for both child and adult. Contrasting home conditions with institutional conditions, he stated that even the best institutional homes for children have a percentage of 20% of death. Mooseheart, Ill., has the unique record of having had not a single death among its children in the last year. He closed his interesting and instructive talk by enlarging upon the fact that "Physical defects in a child should be corrected not for themsleves alone, but because physical defects blunt the moral and spiritual development.

Mrs. Edith Burger of Chicago then gave three readings from Ella Wheeler Wilcox and Fred Emerson Brooks. A jolly drawing and guessing contest followed in which our president Mrs. McKenzie carried off the prize. Mrs. Chessman served tea and cookies. A short business meeting closed the program at which several anonuncements of interest to members were made.

Photography King Winter

Some of the most unusual and most beautiful photographs may be secured in winter—photographs; by the way, that may often be sold to editors who are on the lookout for unusual illustrations and only wish that they could have the opportunity to do their own photographing.

Jack Frost is the most famous of artists, and after he has paid a visit to the fir or spruce in the front yard, there is an opportunity to photo millions of little white crystals. A picture of a fir tree covered with frosty icicles makes one think of coral.

Tabby trying to negotiate a snow drift; the horses with their backs to the bleak wind; baby perched upon the massive shoulders of a snow-man; or even a photograph of the big snow fort in the back yard makes a photograph that will be cherished in years to come.

Gertrude Ederle keeps in the swim in winter by sending congratulatory telegrams.

Although the streets around town were bad going, the Center theatre showed the 9th chapter of their serial picture as well as Tom Mix in "The Lighted Canyon" to a good house Saturday night. Mr. Henry Rabe now has full charge of this theatre for the owners and is doing all in his power to give the people of Bensenville and surrounding country the best that can be obtained in the line of good films. For Saturday he has selected Buck Jones in "Desert Valley" and Sunday night the main feature will be Bebe Daniels in "Stranded in Paris." Such films as those should insure a record house for this popular play house on those dates.

The school board received a surprise Saturday evening when their 7th grade teacher, Miss Bina, who had taught her room Friday and had gone to Chicago for the week-end, phoned that she had been married in that city Saturday and was leaving for South America with her husband that same evening. It sure was a great surprise to all her closest friends in Bensenville as no one had even contemplated a move of this kind on Miss Bina's part, and still the old saying goes "Wonders never cease".

Herman Echler has purchased and moved into the cottage on Pine avenue formerly owned by Charles Scherer.

Switchman "Red" Slocom and wife spent the week-end at Excelsior Springs, Mo. Mr. Slocomb is employed by the railroad company in the Bensenville yards but resides at Franklin Park where Mrs. Slocomb is Post Mistress. The trip was planned to give Mrs. Slocomb a short rest from her strenuous duties in the office.

Leonard Geils unable to attend the meeting of the village board last Thursday evening on account of being under the weather. Few meetings "Lennie" misses.

Mrs. Anna Peterson, "The Radio Lady" of the People's Gas Light and Coke Co., will give a free demonstration of "Cakes and Icings and Deep Fat Frying" at the Itasca Village Hall Friday, Feb. 18, 1927 at 2:00 p. m. sharp, under the auspices of the Itasca Woman's Club.

The L. C. A. club met at the home of Mrs Eugene Franzen Tuesday evening. Mrs. Suter of Palatine came to Bensenville that evening to meet with her club.

Chas. Shoop went to Savannah, Ill., Sunday to attend the funeral of his friend engineer Grant Lawrence.

Mrs. Frank Earhart is sick this week.

August Holt celebrated his 58th birthday Sunday, Feb. 6. Those present were Ed. Holt and family of Maywood, Alvin Mahler and family, Mrs. R. Shoppe and son of Bensenville, George Geils and family, Ernest Schroeder and family, Mrs. Goede, Henry Bruhn all of DesPlaines. All had an enjoyable time and departed for home wishing Mr. Holt many happy returns of the day.

Miss Elsworth, our 5th grade teacher, was absent from her school duties a part of the week to attend the funeral of her cousin, Mr. Armstrong at Hammond, Ind. The Capoot family also attended the funeral. Mr. Armstrong being a brother of Mrs. Capoot, who with her mother were called to his sick bed Saturday and remained with him until his death.

Mrs. Chas. Shoop taught Miss Elsworth's room during her absence and Mrs. Peck is teaching Miss Bina's 7th grade since her departure.

The new residence of A. Duntemman on Center street is going along nicely the village also granted this same wide awake gentleman permission to erect a public garage on York street on the site where Victor Becks shop stood for years. This will mean another up to date business place in our village.

The village board has granted an extension of time to the property owners who were notified to build sidewalks last fall. Approximately one half of the walks were put in last fall and the rest have been given till May 31 to have theirs all put in. While the walks put in last fall make a great improvement still the spaces left without walks, and are now a mudhole does not improve the street as a whole and is very provoking to all who try to keep out of the mud by following the street where the new walks are supposed to be in. The sooner they are put in the sooner every on can walk high and dry from all parts of town to the business section.

Dr. Oakes was noticed last week smiling even more than ever and while he did not say why, we learned afterwards that the stork had visited their home and presented them a dandy baby boy, yes, a son and no wonder the doctor wore that wonderful smile. Mother and baby doing just fine says doctor when asked how everybody is getting along.

Miss Dorothy Cooper who was taken to the hospital and operated upon for appendicitis, while her parents were in Ohio attending the funeral of Mr. Cooper's sister, is recovering slowly at the West Suburban hospital.

Don't forget the Old Timer Base Ball Boy's dance, Feb. 19. Tickets and posters are out. McCain's Music Masters are the boys that don't let your feet get lazy. To miss this dance is to miss the time of your life as the boys expect to give all who attend their money's worth and are in hopes they will clear enough over expenses to purchase equipment to start the season. Bensenville should have some real ball games this year if they want them. Let's get behind the team from the start.

Wade Williams received a wire last week that his mother who resides in LosAngeles, Calif., had met with a serious auto accident. He and his wife left at once for California but received a wire Thursday while enroute that the injuted lady had passed away. They however arrived there Friday. A short letter written after the second telegram was received was sent to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sutherland making known the fact to friends here. Miss Helen, their daughter is staying with friends in Chicago during her parents absence. Sympathy of friends is extended to our bereaved friends.

Next regular meeting of the Booster club Monday evening, Feb. 14 at the village hall. This is the meeting when all boosters should attend and pay dues for 1927. Our activities this year will depend much on the membership and the attendance at meetings. Your club stands for everything beneficial to our community but is going to work just as hard against propositions that are not beneficial to this community or are detrimental to it. Let every booster make it a point this year to attend all meetings so as to be on the ground when any question is brought up for discussion so that all can have a word either for or against the movement. The club won't run itself neither can the officers run it satisfactorily alone, that is, not so that it will satisfy the membership that fail to attend and take an active part. Let every live wire in the community be at this meeting and get things started for this year There may be questions as vital as the drainage system that will require action at any time and all should be prepared to take a stand on every question as no booster can afford to be astride of the fence, think, talk, work and vote.

Miss Ruth Norman enjoyed a very pleasant birthday party at her home Monday afternoon when her many little friends walked in and gave her a surprise. All enjoyed the afternoon spent at Ruth's home.

The basket ball games at Franklin Park Friday night were not won by Bensenville. The game between the two second teams was a victory for Franklin Park score 13 to 12. Close and exciting but we lost again. The game played by the two first teams was also a vitcory for Franklin Park score 19 to 7. There was a good attendance although the P. T. A. of Bensenville was putting on a play at the Center theatre that same evening and many who desired to see the game at Franklin Park also thot that they should attend the P. T. A. picture.

Donald Smethurst has traded his 1926 Chevrolet for a 1927 coach made by the same people. J. C. Geils and sons making the deal for him.

As usual a snappy program directed by Mrs. Capoot was put on at the C. M. & St. P. Ry. Womans' club at their February meeting. Mrs. Jennings accompanied her own vocal solo. This was Mrs. Jennings first appearance before the club and her two wonderfully rendered numbers were greatly appreciated by all who heard them. Mrs. Valentine gave a comic recitation which called for an encore. Mrs. Valentine recites in a spirited, lively manner. Both her renditions were received with hearty applause. This was also her first appearance on a program before the club. Another first appearance was that of Mrs. Jack Spanley who took the leading part in a brief patriotic sketch in honor of Lincoln and Washington whose birthdays are both this month. The entire audience joined Mrs. Spanley in singing the patriotic numbers that closed the program. Much praise is due Mrs. Capoot for the wonderful talent she has been able to get for the programs and all right in the membership of their own club. The club is also to open a library in their club room shortly. This will be under the supervision of Mrs. McKenzie. There wil be many new books as well as some old favorites. Children's books will be there in plenty. The club's next meeting will be held March 2, and another wonderful program will be in store for all who attend.

Mrs. Portner of York street has been sick the last week.

The Milwaukee ladies club will give a Valentine party at their club rooms at 7:30 p. m. Monday Feb. 14, for members and their families. Each one attending will bring a valentine for the Valentine box. Lunch will be served, cards will be played and everything will be free.

Mrs. Nellie Lancore, who has been in poor health the last year has decided not to operate her beauty parlor again herself but has leased it to Miss Mary Homan whose ad. will be found in this week's Register. When Mr. Lancore built their new home he had it planned so that Mrs. Lancore had a beautiful room arranged for her shop. Miss Homan will occupy this room and operate a first class beauty shop.

A card received from Owen Swails who is taking treatments for rheumatism at Excelsior Springs states that he is in good spirits, feeling some what better and expects to be able to come home about Feb. 20. That sure sounds good to all who know what Owen has suffered the last few months.

A live baby is to be exchanged for Red Arrow money at the auction at Center theatre, Friday Feb. 18, at 8 p. m. All are anxious to be on hand to see how and why any one should take enough interest in the Red Arrow Club to let their live baby be sold at auction. The big idea will be plainly cleared up at the auction.

Miss Jeannie Geddes of Stillman Valley, Ill., is visiting at the Charley Shoop home this week.

Harold Franzen agrees with us that Pine avenue should be paved this year and he don't mean maybe either, since he spent about two hours trying to make one block and then had to be pulled out of the mud. York street was as bad last year and see what it is now "high and dry". Well we all agree that more paving is needed as soon as it can be done and we hope Pine avenues is included in the program for 1927.

Lyceum Concert

A Lyceum concert will be given by the young people's society of the St. John's Evan. church, Bensenville, Wednesday, Feb. 16.

Another Switchman has Close Call

Saturday night while working on a switching crew at the west end of Bensenville yard, G. Lowry, who resides with his wife and two children in the upper flat of Jankers new building corner of Addison and Green street, had a very close call when he slipped from the cars which he was working on and injured his spine. He was taken to the Washington Blvd. hospital and placed in a cast. It will be a few days before the doctors can determine to just what extent he is injured. All hope for the best. But for the fact that the engineer working with the injured man saw him fall and stopped his engine at once or he would have been run over and killed.

World Wide in Its Scope

The Salvation Army deserves a place in history because of its humanitarian efforts the world over. It knows no boundry lines when it comes to serving humanity.

Its work among the lepers of Australia is an example of the self-sacrificing efforts of this great army, dedicated to the cause of Christianity. Not prayers alone are its great asset, but these men and women are willing to go where danger lurks and so you find them among the lepers of Australia and other nations doing their bit. Song service has cheered these lonely lepers, outcasts but for these volunteers Is it any wonder that this army is often referred to as "God's Army on earth?"

When we are asked to contribute again, don't measure alone what is done near your own fireside, but think of this army as international, never surrendering while there is a plea for assistance It reaches down and lifts up, and the depths are never too great or the mountains too high for these men and women They are the light of day to those who need a ray of sunshine, a word of hope.

LUMBER

Lumber That's Fit

That is the kind of lumber we would rather sell.

We always specify whether we will furnish you with a No. 1 Yellow Pine or a No. 2, not merely "Yellow Pine."

There are three grades of Yellow Pine commonly used, No. 1, No. 2 and a mixed grade of No. 2 and Better.

We can give you any of the three grades, but why use a low grade stock when building a home in which you expect to live your life, why not use a No. 1 stock and feel that if the wind does blow while you are asleep that the roof is not going to divorce itself from the rest of the house?

In the average house the additional cost will be less than $100.00 and that will be saved in the cost of replacing the poor stock you purchased at the beginning.

WM. R. RIDGE, Local Editor

The Evangelical church will give a box social and lunch auction at the Progressive club house, Feb. 14 Mesdames Gleason, Jones, Friend Letcher and McCray are on the reception committee and plan to make this a very enjoyable affair is their earnest undertaking.

The Woman's club will give a bunco at St. Cyprians hall, Feb. 17. Coffee and cake will be served. The proceeds will be given to the River Grove firemen for their subscription for a new fire engine.

The Progressive club has sent a communication to the board of trustees petitioning them to restrict Grand ave,, to brick buildings only. Being lax an efficient fire fighting apparatus this move is considered a worthy one and should receive immediate attention.

Acting on the suggestion of the Cook County Herald the trustees have negotiated with the property owners of the 5,860 acres at North ave., to annex to River Grove. This territory will be benefited by and will benefit River Grove to a very large extent. The property owners, if annexed will subdivide and sell all 5,860 acres as restricted residential property. The Herald compliments the board of trustees for their active interest in the matter.

Considerable rumors are current that Belmont Heights will be the next annexation to River Grove, then perhaps Gunderson's subdivision on Thatcher ave. With what we already have these annexations will bring us nearly up to Oak Park's area.

Feb. 5 all phones in the suburbs adjacent to River Grove will be operated from the new building on Thtcher ave. The new telephone numbers also took effect, Feb. 5. The prefixes, Elmwood and Schiller Park are discontinued and many other changes have been made.

Judge McNerney, Harry Norten and many other prominent River Grove business men have joined the National division of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

N. Dissiano, Frank Burns, M. Olson, A. Wiemerslage were admitted as new members to the Progress club at the last regular meeting.

The opening of Fullerton ave., and the cutting through of Wood street to Grand ave., will be made the basis of the platform of one of the men running for the office of village president at the coming spring election. This improvement he promises to complete as well as an efficient fire apparatus, better street lighting and absolute control of our water system. This is just what the people have battled long for, and no doubt they will back him at the polls.

After Feb. 5 the telephone of the local editor will be 608-R in accordance with the company's new directory. Any news can be given at this new number.

River Grove business men's association gave a party Thursday evening, to the members and their wives and friends at the Progressive club house. To say that an enjoyable time was had by all would be putting it very mild although it was only one of the many good times sponsored by the business men since they organized three years ago. They had square dances, broom dances, round dances every kind of a dance, even a yiddish gayzatke by the youthful aspirant to Ben Welsh's shoes. Coffee, cake, and sandwiches were served by the ladies. Cigars and cigarettes by the men. Any one who went home hungry must have had indigestion as there was more than plenty and then some. President Jos. Keating extended a hearty welcome to all the member's friends, and expressed the business men's desire to see the organization grow and through its cooperation see River Grove go on the map as a thoroughly active commercial Center. To those in River Grove who do not belong now the editor takes the liberty of reminding them that, it is not only their duty to the community but also to themselves to put their shoulder to the wheel with the business men. Now is your chance to 'establish yourselves in the minds of the people by displaying the most important factor of business ability, the goodfellowship association with your neighbor merchant.

Demands for real estate for homesites are sure signs of spring and the way they are going after River Grove land shows that the property here is a bargain at any price. McNerney and Giertz find the warm weather is bringing people to River Grove in quest of property and have planned to be at their offices every day including Sundays. Get yours now before the price jumps.

Harry Norten has purchased a new car. This time its a Chevrolet.

Miss Elsie Ploner has been chosen from the many applicants to take charge of the new National Tea store just opened for business at Thatcher avenue.

Mr. Kellogg, school principal, promises us some surprising accomplishments in the formation of a crack base ball team for the coming year. The boys expect to take on all comers in their class and some exceptionally good games are expected to show themselves. So far, so good, for the boys at school. The question of wether to be or not to be a member of the west suburban league is to be placed before the players of the Progressive Nine by manager A. Quinn. It seems that if such a splendid team as the River Grove P. G. is to take their place among the teams of the suburbs such a move as joining a league of this kind gives them the many advantages they would not have as a sand lot nine. Games will be scheduled and on official umpire supplied by the league will prevent such repetition as our games with Franklin Park, last year.

George Franklin an old time resident of River Grove stopped off to say "Howdy" to some old time friends Saturday. Mr. Franklin is a resident of Philadelphia now and expects to be with us a week.

With the organization of the children's choir, who have sung at the masses the last two Sundays, Rev. Stafford plans to hold Holy Hour devotion during lent. The men and women also plan to have a choir before long. The attendance has surprisingly increased in the last few weeks and another wing to the present building will soon be necessary. Sunday Feb. 13, will be the regular communion Sunday for the Holy Name Sodality.

Over 300 people the largest number to ever attend a bunco party, in River Grove, attended St. Cyprian's bunco Monday evening. The list of winners is too length to print and it is needless to say that everyone enjoyed themselves. Another party sponsored by the women will take place, Feb. 24, at the school hall.

There seems to have been some misunderstanding about the arrest of the "Venice." The men arrested did not drive the police car as they claimed nor no one else has ever driven it but the police. Two of the men were found guilty and fined and a warrant for the third is in possession of the police now. The proprietor took a change of venue and was dismissed. Every cooperation and assistance should be given our police in closing this disreputable dive. They are endeavoring to make River Grove a safe place for our children and a better place to live ourselves, and as everyone knows the "Venice" is patronized by the undesirable element from other towns too much encouragement cannot be given those who seek to keep them out of River Grove.

Mrs. Mary McAuliff died at the Ravenswood hospital, not at the Cook county hospital as stated by error last week. We are always glad to correct any mistakes in the Herald.

Village Board Discusses Problems

At the regular monthly meeting of the village board, Monday evening the following business was brought before it.

The seconds of the previous meetings were read and on motion placed on file. The police officers report of $81.00 was read and accepted on motion. The general fund cash $2118.82; disbursements $697.30; balance on hand $1421.52; water fund cash $1923.08; vehicle fund $263.75. A communication from the State bank of River Grove was read which proposed to the board, to prepare post and mail out sewer and water assessment notices, delinquent tax reports and take care of posting of all bonds, etc. It was moved and seconded to turn this business over to the bank.

A communication from the Progressive club in regard to a zoning ordinance was placed on file as was a communication from Mrs. Fulpomi in regard to bus service. The request from Belmont Heights to purchase our old fire bell was placed on file until such could be investigated.

A survey map and charts of all underground construction and other engineering work done in the past few years was prepared and posted with the village by the engineers, conceiver, Older and Quinlan. River Grove bank offered their vault as a place of safe keeping and the village attorney was instructed to draw up an ordinance providing a fine of $200 and costs for their unlawful removal.

A petition bearing the names of 35 property owners of Trumbull's subdivisi / west of the river was presented for annexation to River Grove. This subdivision which is pretty well built up and runs from North ave., north to the present village limits is badly in need of sanitary facilities and no doubt will be annexed. The attorney promises to have the ordinance ready for the coming spring election in April when the people will have an opportunity to accept this valuable territory. We'll then venture to say that our trritory equals that of any village in the world.

The following bills were ordered paid: C. Boldt, $26; C. H. Hansen, $60.; Pittsburg Meter Co., $27.; A. Brodkorpt, $148.58; City of Chicago, $950.64; J. Brown, $125.; A. Kossack, $52.; River Grove Fire department, $57.50; River Grove Coal and Supply $54.; H. Goebles, $81.; Davis Garage, $30.88; Alvin Quinn, $26.; J. Dorhety, police, $50 W. Roelle, police, $145; F. Wiemerslage police, $151.32; Chicago Journal $96.

No further business being in order Mr. Gillen arose to ask what the business people present thought of new lighting system. One business man, A. Goethel voiced his approval of them. Incidentally, he has one directly in front of his store. When asked whether these lights were not of an obsolete type Mr. Gillen said, "they are the very latest type on the market." The Public Service Co., will be instructed to place them on Grand Ave., Thatcher road and River road.

Fire chief, T. Eckhart petitioned the board for help in securing an efficient fire engine. The firemen already have over $300 and with the cooperation of the board should be able to get enough to make the payment required. "Lack of water pressure constantly places us in a perilous position during a fire." Chief Eckhart says, "at the last fire on Oak street we did not have enough pressure to break a window or reach the second floor." That is because of the fact that at the time, the I. H. B. Ry. was using the water. President Wishina said "they are supposed to shut off their valves when the siren blows".

Sunday morning at 10 o'clock the valves on the I. H. B. Ry. will be shut off and a test made to ascertain just what pressure we have in our mains, and Monday evening there will be a special meeting to bring about a favorable settlement in regards to our water system with the I. H. B. Ry. Those interested should be present.

A forty-three bell carillon for St. Chrystem's church in North Dearborn St., Chicago, which will be installed for Easter. The bells are a gift to the church from R. T. Crane in memory of his father, Richard Towe Crane. While the bells were being made ready to be tested at the foundry in London, American spectators stood at attention while Kamiel Lefere, noted bellman of Malines cathedral first played religious chimes, and then "The Star Spangled Banner," in the first official peal of the bells. These bells are mounted on the latest apparatus and operated by electro pneumatic carillon machinery, which enables the bells to be played over wires from a distance of 3,000 miles. The keyboard has a delicate piona touch. A wonderful acquisition to Chicago.

A plea to the farmers and sports men to save the quail of Illinois, was sent out by William J. Stratton, Illinois director of conservation.

"The heavy snow which has covered a large portion of Illinois for the last week has made it extremely difficult for quail and other birds to find sufficient food," said Director Stratton.

"A sleet or ice storm at this time, accompanied by extreme cold weather makes it imperative that feed be placed where the birds can find it.

"I urgently request that you feed the birds wherever a food shortage exists. Illinois has purchased and distributed thousands of quail, partridges and pheasants and over 150,000 pheatant eggs during the last three years, and the co-operation of farmers and sportsmen will assure the success of our conservation program."

They Forget to Say "Thank You"

Several years ago a public spirited citizen erected a beautiful and substantial building and presented it to his home town for museum and library purposes. A decade has passed but up to the present moment he has never even been thanked either publicly or privately.

Right now we are swinging thru a frenzied "Club" cycle. After a hurried breakfast usually partaken of alone, very few business men dine at their homes until the following morning and so it goes week in and week out. A wonderful opportunity for a sermon at this point, but do not be alarmed, because we are not going to preach it. We are going to stick closely to our "Thank You" text.

Luncheon Clubs, Rotary, Kiwanis, Exchange, Lions, Bears, and Kangaroos, invite men to appear at their meetings, speakers so-called, for the purpose of amusing or instructing them. Many times these speakers travel scores and sometimes hundreds of miles at their own expense and then what happens? After the "talk" the members file out, grab their hats and away they go. Nine times out of ten, not even the chairman of the entertainment committee is thoughtful enough to tarry for a minute and say "thank you" to the man who has sacrificed his time and his money at the request of the club and supposedly at least in its interests.

Don't Turn Wet Soil

The best time to plow or spade the home garden is, first of all, when the soil is not wet, especially in the case of heavy or clayey land says the United States Department of Agriculture. The soil should be in such condtion that each spadeful will break up easily, making a mellow mass which requires but little additional fining before planting. If the garden is large making the use of a team or tractor possible, it is even more necessary that the land be dry.

The Chamber of Commerce of Mt. Prospect, will have a banquet on Tuesday evening, Feb. 15, at Kruse restaurant. Mr. Hutchinson the organizer for the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce will be the principle speaker. An elaborate program has been arranged and music will also be on hand. Mr. Kruse is furnishing the music for the evening and assure a good program as well as good eats for the guests.

Feb. 19, will be another gala night for the V. F. W. post at their dance at Dalebrook. This active organization always has given very successful entertainments and the committee in charges states that this will be the best yet. Better arrange to get in on it, it will be worthwhile.

The Development association is busy with figures for several new homes to be started in the spring. They are breaking the way and opening up 1927 with a bang.

The various contractors who have still work to do on improvements hope to get started soon now that the hardest part of winter is past, and with everything that is going to be done this year. It is to be a very busy season in Mt. Prospect, we hope we will be all dressed up before the end of the year.

Chief Mulso wants to issue a final warning to all motorist that Feb. 15, is the last day of grace to secure your local vehicle license. Now Mr. Motorist get your license before the chief starts his campaign as it may put you in an embarassing position if you fail to have the proper 1927 vehicle tag on your car.

The progress which we have made as a village is well worthy of our co-operation and let us all put our shoulders to the wheel and put things over in real shape this year. We should all be like one big family and it is up to each and every one of us to do their best to put things forward which will benefit us all. Remember when ever you have anything to say that is not good, don't tell the world but tell the party responsible for the trouble. Tell the world all the good you can as the old adage is "There is so much bad in the best of us and so much good in the worst of us that it hardly pays for any of us to talk about the rest."

The city of Springfield has the Municipal convention and the Mutual Insurance convention on this week. George Busse went to Springfield to attend the insurance convention.

We are all happy and well and are glad the crest of winter has gone, now we are all preparing for spring and will make our fair village a city of gardens again this year.

Buick owners enjoy the savings of leadership

In purchase price and daily use, Buick owners profit by the savings of leadership.

The price of a Buick is moderate, but it buys a car built to the very finest quality ideals — one that would cost you considerably more, if it were not for Buick volume.

For years, the savings provided by great volume have been devoted to the enrichment of Buick value.

And for years, Buick owners have had a more dependable motor car—one in which high quality lessens upkeep expense.

Buy a Buick! It is an investment in economy and satisfaction.

OBITUARY

REV. HENRY WOLF

Rev. Henry Wolf was born at Penzing, Bavaria, Germany on Dec. 30, 1855, being the son of Earl Wolf and his wife Salome, nee Friedly. He received his early education in the public schools and later in the Latin school of St. Anna's Gymnasium at the city of Augsburg. He was confirmed in his Christian faith at the age of fourteen years. In 1872 he came with his parents, sisters and brothers to America, where the family settled at Buffalo, New York.

After having been graduated from Elmhurst college in 1874 and from the Evangelical Theological Seminary at Marthasville, Mo., in 1877, he was ordained to the industry in the Evangelical church at Peotone, Ill., on May 21, 1877. He found his fields of labor in the Evangelical pastorates at Peotone. Turner Junction (now West Chicago), Niles Center, Addison Township near Bensenville, Crystal Lake, Genoa and Bartlett, Ill.

In the Evangelical church a number of high offices were bestowed upon him. He served as secretary and as president of the North Illinois District, as member of the Board of Control of Elmhurst College and as member of the Seminary board, as delegate member of eight General Conferences and as treasurer-general of the Synod.

He was active as a charter member and one of the founders of the Evangelical Colony at New Salem, North Dakota.

In 1894 he organized the German Evangelical Orphanage and Old People's Home Society of North Illinois and became one of the founders and leaders of the Bensenville home.

In 1916 he retired from the active ministry and made his home in Bensenville, Ill., and later, in 1919, in DesPlaines, Ill.

On May 18, 1881 he was married to Miss Louise Wurtz of West Chicago, Ill. Their union was blessed with eleven children, eight sons and three daughters, of whom a son and a daughter in tender childhood and the oldest son, Theodore, at the age of 44 years preceded him in death.

For the summer of this year he had planned with his good wife to undertake a journey to his old home beyond the seas. But it was decreed otherwise for him. After an illness of only a few days, pneumonia with increasing weakness of the heart, he was called to the home above. It was on Saturday, Jan. 22, when, surrounded by his family, he closed his eyes here below forever. The time of his pilgrimage was 71 years and 23 days.

With his departure a highly active life has come to a standstill here below. He has been permitted with his good wife and their children to enjoy a very happy family life. With his eminent gifts and talents he has been to his church a faithful, eager and successful servant. In deep Faith he was united with his God and Savior; he was a devoted Christian.

In deep sorrow but in the comfort of our glorious Christian Faith, he is mourned by his wife, Mrs. Louise Wolf, his six sons, Otto, Henry Alfred, Rudolph, Reinhardt, Herman, two daughters Hulda and Esther, five daughters-in-law, thirteen grandchildren and many other relatives.

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank our many friends and neighbors for their sympathy and kindness to us in our great bereavement, the passing away of our beloved husband and father.

"I heard a fellow blowing about his business the other day," declared Ragson Tatters. "I suppose that was one of the trade winds you read so much about."

Pouring rain—dead of night—miles from nowhere, drenched all right, open car, poor cigar, started out glad, now weary and sad, where are we asked he, there's a sign said she, can't read a line, without a hard climb, I'll go up the post or give up the ghost, down he cames like a saint, dosen't say anything except "Wet Paint."

"I like money pretty well," confessed Ragson Tatters the other day, "but if I had to agree to stay in the ring with this here fellow Gene Tunney in order to get it, I believe I'd try to get along without it."

According to automobile statistics only one tenth of the world now sits on the front porch and wonders how the other nine tenths gets the money to buy so much gasoline.

EAST MAINE

The Henry Sass family of Norwood Park were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Finnern, Sunday.

Martha Schaefer, who is attending Columbia business college, suffered a cracked and sprained wrist when she fell while alighting from a street car on her way to school Jan. 2. This accident necessitated Martha's staying home from school some time but the injured member is reported to be healing satisfactorily and will soon be completely mended.

George J. Steil was given a surprise party Sunday evening in honor of his 25th birthday anniversary A crowd of young folks about 25 in number attended, full of pep and gayety and succeeded in making the occasion a happy one for all. At midnight a birthday luncheon was served and it was some time later that the "goodnights" were said and the merry makers wended their way home after wishing their host many happy returns of the day.

Although the weather last Saturday was not as pleasant as it might have been, it did not seem to have any effect on the crowd who attended the auction sale of Mrs. Alice Schuhknecht on her farm on Ballard road. There were folks present from all around and everything was disposed of and at most satisfactory prices. Mrs. Schuhknecht intends to make her home with her parents for the present at least. The Ernest Witte family will move on to her farm.

Those of you who were unable to attend the Truck Growers school held in St. Matthews hall, Feb. 1 and 2, were given an opportunity to hear some of the splendid speeches repeated over WLS, the Sears Roebuck Radio Station, Thursday afternoon, Feb. 3. Our local men, August Geweke, Fred Bestmann, Louis Wetterman, and E. P. Lewis and M. C. Gillis were on the program and broadcast their talks from the studio in the Sherman hotel. Interested listeners in say that reception was very good and the lectures were as persuasive and as eloquently given over the aid to the invisible audiences as when the speakers were on the platform in the hall before a large crowd of gardeners. The interest and co-operation of the Sears Roebuck station in this work which was started by the University of Illinois, is very much appreciated.

Almost everyone likes to read stories with some mystery or puzzling situation running thru them and the same thing applies to plays or entertainments of any sort. The play, "The Whole Truth" which is on the program to be presented at the entertainment of St. Matthews choir, Feb. 25, 26 and 27, will keep you wondering and guessing until very near the end just who and what the real characters are. Then there is another clever little playlet, "Erna Will Heiraten" is not only interesting and amusing, but is funny. The entire program will be presented for the purpose of helping all who attend laugh away their cares and blues in an evening of wholesome amusement. The tickets are out and may be obtained from any of the members of the choir.

A meeting of the contracting committee of the Cook County Truck Gardeners and Farmers association was held in Chicago Saturday, Feb. 5. The general situation of the conditions regarding onion seed and onion sets was discussed in detail. One of the foremost considerations in the raising of onion sets is the necessity of having a good quality of sets. To insure this fact, care must be taken in the selection of the seed; to obtain only the best and to sow it thick enough to warrant the production of a good crop. Regarding the price for the coming season, the recommandation of the committee was fixed at 80c a pound for seed and $1.10 a bushel for sets.

Nine Illinois electric railways carried an aggregate of 34,084,492 more passengers during 1926 than in 1925. This increase is more than one third of the total number of passengers gained by the 206 companies reporting to the American Electric Railway Association during the year.

During 1926 Illinois telephone companies added 90,000 new stations to their lines.

WINDY WULFF SAYS:

A family moved from the city to the suburbs and were told them they ought to get a watchdog to guard premises at night. So they bought the largest dog that was for sale in the kennels of a nearby dealer.

Shortly afterwards the house was entered by burglars, who made a good haul while the dog slept.

The household went to the dealer and told him about it.

"Well, what you need now," he said, "is a little dog to wake up the big dog."

"Wide horizons open before the modern girl. There's politics, there are the professions, business—everything. But the modern girl makes a great mistake when she breaks with the past altogether:

"An elderly man said to the young man in a kindly voice:

" 'You wish to marry my daughter. Can you cook, sew, wash and iron, sweep, darn, nurse children, shop—?"

"The young man gave a puzzled laugh.

" 'Why ask me if I can do those things?' he asked.

" 'Because,' said the elderly man, 'my daughter can't.' "

The wise guys who sneer at the stupidities of the past generation might be willing to demonstrate their ingenuity by showing us how and where to locate downtown landing places for airplanes so that they will not have to be rebuilt for at least two decades.

Some inventor could make quite a hit by designing a speedometer that would show a skull and crossbones whenever it registered above 40 miles an hour.

Chase Osborn, ex-Governor of Michigan, while on a recent trip to Washington is said to have started this one. It's about little Ikie who was working at his first job. Every Saturday night he received three crisp one dollar bills. At the end of the first week he brought three nice crisp one dollar bills. At the end of the first week he brought the three dollars home and gave them to his mother. When the second Saturday rolled around he turned over only $2.97 to his maternal parent. By the third Saturday things were getting no better rapidly and he came home with only $2.93. This excited some comment in the Cohen home, but not until the fourth week, when Ikie again came in seven cents short were Mrs. Cohen's suspicious thoroughly aroused. Calling her son to her, she said: "Now, Ikie, don'd hev no sicritss from momma. Tell me de truth, Ikie, hev you gotten yourselluf a goil?"

The elevator need not be fitted with costly mirrors and other expensive decorations in order to be uplifting.

A man was going around a public golf course with his wife. He got into a bunker and after his forty eighth stroke his wife said, "By gosh, Jim, if you keep on like this, everybody'll think yer workin' here."

OBITUARY

John C. Ehlers

John C. Ehlers was born in Holstein Germany, Oct. 14, 1849 and departed this life Jan. 27, 1927, in Highland Park hospital at the age of 77 years, 3 months, 13 days.

Brother Ehlers was joined in Holy Wedlock to Miss Christiana A. Enider. This union was blessed with four sons and four daughters. Brother Ehlers was converted to God in 1873 and joined the Tabor Evangelical church of Farmington, Minn., in the same year. He was faithful to his church serving it in many official positions. He loved his Savior and was true to Him until the end. On Jan. 11, he began to complain about a cold and it was at this time that his sickness crept upon him. He was taken to the Highland Park hospital, where he was operated upon, and at this time pneumonia took hold of him bringing his earthly life to a close.

There remain to mourn his departure, 4 sons, three daughters, two brothers, one sister, twelve grandchildren, three great grand children and a host of friends. May God bless the bereaved family and comfort them in the thought that he lives forever with the Lord and that if we be faithful we shall see him again with our Lord in the land of the redeemed.

Short skirted women in California will face the mice pest with a fortitude which would not have been possible 20 years ago.

Telephone Service Must Go On

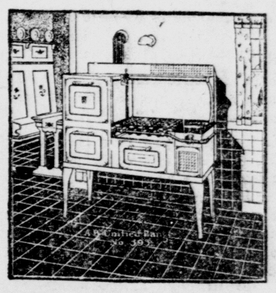

EVERY telephone added to this system during the past ten years has required an average investment higher than for those installed ten years ago. This condition will apply to each telephone added for many years, if present price levels hold. The company is powerless to control these advances.

THE blizzards of winter and the cyclones and thunderstorms of summer are the implacable enemies of the telephone service. Experience covering many years has enabled the Bell System to develop the best forms of protection and the best weapons of defense in this warfare.

Modern improved construction and the development of a highly trained and alert organization have made interruptions much less frequent and have cut down the average length of time in which service is suspended.

Handy Garden Shape

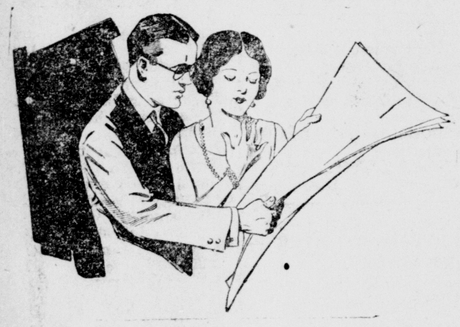

The best shape for a garden plot to be cultivated with a horse is one twice as long as wide, says the United States Department of Agriculture. If the garden contains about one-half acre the length will be approximately 210 or 220 feet and the width 100 feet. A turning row must be left at each end or the fence across the end of the garden can be made in panels which may be removed to allow room for turning in cultivation.

OBSERVER'S NOTES

Hark! Hark! The dogs do bark,
Dog Derby comes to town
The owners brag, the dogtails wag
Each sure he'll run 'em down.

—o—

Am almost sure the UN-10 dirigible that startled Chicago out of its wits Monday night was looking for the Dog Derby town; more important now to some of us than that revolution in Portugal or the "sleeping dogs"—they are waking up in China.

—o—

Well, there comes to us startling news about wars, and rumors of wars, from the ends of the earth: and can it be our coming Dog Derby has set loose "The Dogs of War?" Oh! no, the more play and relaxation we participate in the less likely we are to want to fight. Let's invite all those beligerents to come to the Dog Derby.

—o—

In view of the fact that Dog Derby Day is sponsored by our V. F. W.'s, I'm enlisted to do all my bit to help on the show, and I'm going to tell you about "Some Dogs I have Known," in Arlington Heights—some still here, more of the past.

—o—

My father used to warn us to "beware of a mean man's dog." The inference being like master, like dog. There's no mean men's dogs to be immortalized in this column. The first dog I remember to have met in Arlington Heights was the huge New Foundland Prince, belonging to the Shirras: The first time I called at the house alone, old Prince came down the walk to meet me and escorted me to the door, as friendly as ever a dog could be.

—o—

When Mrs. Shirra came to the door she expressed alarm at seeing the dog—near me. She said he was a terror to many and they were afraid to have him about when people came. She laughingly related how the elder Mrs. Hewitt who came to their home often was always in terror if Prince was out and had to be met and assured he should not harm her. Well, old Prince and I were good friends from first sight, and he smiled (dogs do smile) and swung his great bushy tail, whenever I met him. A fine old dog was he.

—o—

There was a little terrier the W. W. Guilds used to have, a friendly little rascal, who wanted to sit on your lap or your feet. And he wore a mixed expression from which I could never be sure whether he wanted to laugh or to cry. This was when Hester was a baby and since she as Mrs. A. G. Jenkinson is a prominent club woman and far from babyhood, and dog life is limited, you will know that little dog is dead.

—o—

In the A. F. Volz home was a venerable dog, i think "Jeff,"—(a terror to cats!) The father, Mr. Christian Volz, told us that for months after his only little daughter died, their faithful old dog who was so attached to the child, would go and lie under her chair and whine for his old playmate. Tapo was the pal and playmate of Vera and Rexford until some cruel person put an end to him. Then came old Jack, a fine faithful pedigreed collie, a wonderful creature, and he knew stunts and was an educated dog but, poor old Jack died.

—o—

The first time I saw Mr. T. J. Hitchcock, we were going to our old office, and on the old Batterman corner, saw a poor little stray dog, looking pitifully up at everyman who passed. Just then Mr. Hitchcock came hurrying along on his way to business. He looked down and saw the poor little creature, busy man that he was he stooped down and patted and talked to the little dog, and was just humanly kind to him. Mr. Haynes, who was always a friend to dogs, said, there's a man who has something mighty good in him. Any man who is kind to dogs is one you can safely trust.

—o—

There was H. G. Lorenzen's old Rover,—A big old dog of the St. Bernard strain. It used to be the first thing Henry did when he got home from the city to take old Rover a drink; Lena (now Mrs. W. T. Reynolds, painted a large picture of old Rover, which is no doubt still among her family treasures.

—o—

Chester and Bruce Guild used to have a cute little dog they called Dixie and I know those boys now—men of business cares and interests, will well remember how completely Dixie took part in all their sports, with Mrs. Guild and her sons, and Dixie. I was once treated to a most delightful ride, and recalling it and those kind friends, Dixie a dog that knew things always has a share in pleasant memories of the ride, the perfect day.

—o—

The Traub family had a little dog that used to lie at Mrs. Traub's feet and which gave her much amusement in her last days. It was in fact Mrs. Ella Boeger's property, but freely circulated between the Traub and Boeger homes Poor little Spot came to a tragic end, run down and killed by an auto. I am told by the family that as he grew older, like so many of us humans, he became disagreeable and rather fell from his high place in family esteem—Alas, for poor old dogs!

—o—

Many of you must remember the Castles, bright little black dog "Curley." While Mr. B. B. Castle lived he used to take long walks sometimes with Curly, at his heels. There were certain places in sight of our home where he would sometimes pause to rest. After he was no longer here to walk with the dog, it was a pathetic touching sight to see "Curly" come down the road, trailing his master's footsteps—go over all the ground he once followed him, pause, where he paused, sniff the ground—look all about, and finally retrace the old way back home. Never were people kinder to animals than Mrs. Castle and her family have been.

—o—

There was a big dog, shaggy and spotted. I'm not sure of his breed, but he was a well known fixture on the lanscape in the earlier days. The father Hefferen, after no longer actively employed used to stand on the corner of Vail and Wing streets and watch the passengers unload from the trains as they moved away. Always by his side was old Spot, faithfully and ready to do his master's bidding. One of the first dogs we learned to know in Arlington Heights. I am sure he was as worthy of remembrance as the dogs in Burns, 'T'wa dogs story.

—o—

Dr. Elfeld's family had a pretty black dog when Edward and Persis were at home. A dog of more than ordinary intelligence. I've seen him grow restless and finally when it was time for the train Edward came on, that dog knew and would go to the window, and put his fore paws on the sill—watching until he saw him come down the walk. Sad to say this dog too was killed either by a train or an auto.

—o—

"But the clans of the dogs meet and gather," and their numbers out grow time and space for mention here. Many of you must recall Mr. Charles Sigwalt's great bull dog—fierce to outsiders, gentle as a lamb at home. He was so deeply attached to Miss Lilian, if a guest in the home came to intimately near her the old dog growled a warning to "keep your distance." A word from Mrs. Sigwalt or Miss Lilian would subdue him.

—o—

Many dogs of later date, are worth mentioning. With these I have "only a casual acquaintance." There are some dogs, within hearing that like MacBeth "have murdered sleep." There are some I mean to know better before the next Dog Derby. Mrs. Beitz has a young police dog, she keeps within bounds, said to be a fine creature. You have heard of Mr. Rhinerts police dogs and there are some dogs you may be glad to see at the Derby—don't miss it.

RHEUMATISM

While in France with the American Army I obtained a French perscription for the treatment of Rheumatism and Neuritis. I have given this to thousands with wonderful results. If your dog is good at tricks—list him.

Its going to be a grand day for Dog Derby tomorrow.

Don't play dog in the manger, snap in and help make it a big success.

That was a dandy fine play.

Be sure and see the conjunction of Jupiter and Mercury the 13th.

Adaline Boeger spent the weekend with her uncle Charles Traub's family at DesPlaines.

Little Merilin Framburg is taking her turn with measles.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Cosman have moved into their beautiful new home in South Evergreen Avenue.

Excavation is being made in So. State Road for a new house J. D. Flentie is having built for his son, Robert.

Let me see—have I mentioned the Dog Derby?

And another fine thing I want to call your attention to is the craft display by the Boy Scouts placed in the windows of the State Bank, in Landmeier's window, a fine display. See it!

Do not forget to attend the bakery sale at the Lutheran school hall to be given by the ladies' aid of the St. Peter's Lutheran church Friday afternoon, Feb. 12, at 4 p. m.

Free lecture—in the high school gymnasium February 18. Illustrated lecture on our capitol, Washington, D. C.

The Lincoln service, and sermon at the Presbyterian church was well attended, and a strong good sermon given by Rev. Kossack.

Mrs. Roy Dobbins has been on the sick list the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Traub of DesPlaines called on relatives here last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard are building a new residence on the south side in the new addition.

Marvin Haskins who has been with his mother Mrs. Max Stoeckel since last July, left here Wednesday to spend the summer with old friends in Dakota.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Bittner entertained friends from Park Ridge on Sunday.

Mr. W. W. Guild is again shut in with an attack of pleurisy.

Mrs. D. G. Beaty entertained a group of eight or ten ladies to a church benefit luncheon Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Horcher in North State Road entertained guests from the city Sunday.

Members of the Arlington Seating Company are attending the National School Seating Manufacturers convention in Chicago this week.

The family of Archie Van Gorder from Wisconsin are staying in the home of his brother Mr. Ben Van Gorder here, while he is taking treatment in a soldiers hospital in Chicago.

Mrs. Joseph Horcher Sr., visited friends in Chicago last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Boeger, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Boeger, Mr. Herman Boeger and Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Nickol attended the funeral of Mrs. Anna Pohlman Boeger at Palatine Friday last week.

The mother's club met with Mrs. Schutte in North Vail street on Thursday. This busy group are thinking of early plans for their annual theatre party.

Free lecture! Friday, February 18, at the high school gymnasium.

The chimney at the old Kolling machine works has been torn down and the building razed, and prepared for remodeling and possible change of location, by the new owner Mr. Lindner.

The bunco party given for the benefit of St. James Church in their church hall Tuesday night, was an emphatic success.

175 or more present and 37 tables were kept full of busy gamesters and a constant changing set of players. Mr. Peter Tossman was the fortunate winner of that chest of rare and beautiful linens for some time displayed in the window of Mr. Hills' Electric Supply store.

Incidentally, a well informed man was heard to say that any person holding lots or real estate close in, in Arlington Heights will do well to hold on to it, for a reasonable time as values are sure to advance, in the next few years.

Have you noticed the window displays for the scout contest and the first aid at the State Bank.

And O, my! Those intriguing Valentines in the windows—"Have a heart," and send one to your best sweeties, your pal, or anybody who will delight to get it. Hearts are trumps February 14.

Free lecture, under the auspices of the woman's club in the high school gym February 18.

The Knox family certainly had a double portion of misfortune in their time of bereavement. The son, Robert, having finished his term in the navy was hurrying home, arriving too late to see his mother alive. And Mr. Knox coming home from St. Louis, with an injured arm, to find his devoted companion, the faithful keeper of his home and all that was dear to him, gone from this earth. Surely their sorrows were heavy hard to bear. Of the many out of town friends who attended Mrs. Knox' funeralwere Rev. and Mrs. Waltmire former pastor of the M. E. church in Arlington Heights.

An illustrated free lecture on Washington, D. C. will be given in the high school gym February 18. All teachers and school pupils are especially invited to attend.

S. A. Mitchell has moved from Vine and Highland to one of the Wm. Guild flats on Vine and Vail Streets.

Miss Jackson will be at the new health center above the Davis store from 3 to 5 o'clock Wednesday, Feb. 9, to weigh babies and consult with mothers.

Willard Pate and Richard Sandford start today on an auto trip to Florida where they will visit Richard's parents. They will go from there across the country to California, they expect to be gone two months.

Mrs. Chas. Lorenzen left Tuesday for Oklahoma City, to visit the family of Rev. Reynolds and other friends.

The A. B. C. club rooms have received a new mahogany table, the gift of August Lunning, the candy man. Mr. Lunning also forwarded a donation toward the prize fun for the Dog Derby.

Rev. Noack baptised the infant daughter, Alice of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Heineman, last Sunday.

Rev. Kossack gave a fine talk with illustrated pictures on Egypt Wednesday evening. Those fortunate enough to be present found their time well spent.

Do not forget to attend the bakery sale at the Lutheran school hall to be given by the ladies' aid of the St. Peter's Lutheran church Friday afternoon, Feb. 12, at 4 p. m.

W. J. Blume of Lake Zurich who recently sold his farm, has bought the Julius Flentie residence on Wing street, taking possession April 1st. Mr. Flentie will rent until he has had the opportunity to build himself a new home. Arlington Realty Company closed the deal.

OBITUARY

MRS. SARAH KNOX

Mrs. Sarah Knox, wife of Robert Knox, of 407 Euclid Ave., Arlington Heights, died early Thursday morning, Feb. 3, after an illness of several months duration. The deceased was at times apparently upon the road to recovery and the sudden turn for the worse a few hours before her death was a great shock to the family. Mr. Knox, who recently transferred his business connections to St. Louis, was taken ill in the latter city, and had just gotten out from the hospital when he fell fracturing a shoulder joint and was again returned to his bed. During this period he kept in touch with his home and the condition of Mrs. Knox and three hours after receiving a letter from home that his wife was doing nicely and not to worry, he received a telegram that she was upon her death bed. Mr. Knox hurriedly left St. Louis without consulting his physician and arrived in Arlington Heights a few hours after her death.

The funeral was held at M. E. church, which the deceased loved so well and in which her family was closely identified. The services were in charge of Rev. Billman, the present pastor and Rev. Waltmire, a former Arlington Heights pastor. The great number of floral tokens sent to the house and church showed in what high esteem she was held. Among them were cards from officials of the firm with which Mr. Knox has been identified so many years, Chicago friends of the Misses Knox, and the family and from their many Arlington Heights friends. The family has only been a resident in the City of Good Neighbors four years, but they have a wide acquaintance. It was among these that Mrs. Knox had won many friends. In her quiet unassuming manner she won the respect and admiration of all who had the privilege of meeting her.

Sarah May Irwin was born in Arthur, Canada, July 27, 1878. Her parents died when she was very young and she spent her girlhood in Chicago. It was there that she met and married Mr. Robert Knox on July 23, 1896. Chicago was the home of the family until four years ago, when they came to Arlington Heights. Mrs. Knox has suffered occasionally with heart trouble. In December, she was taken to her bed, but later she became better and was able to be around the house for a period of three weeks. A few days prior to her death she was again taken ill but she was only in a critical condition the last few hours.

Presbyterian Notes

A special sermon to the boy scouts will be preached Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

The Ladies' Missionary society will have a special thank offering services at Mrs. Pate's at 2:30 Friday afternoon.

Winmore Class

The young ladies of the Presbyterian church recently organized a class and chose their name "Winmore Class."

The class is endeavoring to gain a large group of active members and be of real service.

One of the first things the Winmores have undertaken was to establish a nursery during the church hour. Each Sunday morning two girls are in charge of the nursery, taking care of the small children whose mothers are attending church. We hope many mothers will take advantage of this opportunity.

Besides the regular Sunday morning session the class holds their monthly meeting at the home of one of their members. Evelyn Hausam will be our hostess the first Friday in March.

Next Monday evening, February 14, the Winmores are entertaining all their members at a Valentine's party at the home of Marion Peterson. The committees are busy planning a good time for everyone.

Had our toes stepped on, cynical and soured because of some personal slight- Not a bit of it and no indeed. Our object and purpose is merely to call your attention to the fact that this is a pleasure-bent age, a time when the average man is too busy with his own affairs to feel appreciative, much less to express appreciation for any public service you may render.

As a business man, as an individual, you have your own way to carve, your own life to live, but if lived selfishly and in a self-centered way, you will be defeating the ends and purposes of your own existence hence, looking for "thank you's", which the chances are you will not receive, and ignoring criticisms which surely will come to any man who isn't a molly-coddle, go right ahead doing and saying the things you believe to be right, continue to build up and add to your own moral assets, keep sweet, acquire the habit of saying "Thank You," and let the chips fall where they will.

Miss Jackson Speaks Before Mother's Club

The Mother's club of the Methodist Church held a very fine meeting at the home of Mrs. Whitmore last Wednesday evening. In addition to the usual interesting features, Miss Jackson, the community nurse, gave the first of a series of talks on child welfare. This was listened to with interest as Miss Jackson is an earnest and capable speaker. About 35 members and friends were present, and the club pledged $100.00 to the new church. The meeting adjourned to meet with Mrs. William Koplin, March 2, at which Miss Jackson will give her second lecture.

IN MEMORIAM

HORSTMAN—In loving memory of our dear mother and father. Mrs. Elizabeth Horstman who passed away one year ago Jan. 25, 1926 and Mr. Henry Horstman who died one year ago, Feb. 10, 1926. In the graveyard sweetly sleeping,
Where the flowers gently wave
Lies the ones we loved so dearly,
But whom we could not save.

Lincoln Practiced Thrift

He practiced thrift because his far seeing mind told him that it was the only way in which he could gain the goal he had set in life. Today, the same rule applies.

Thrift means "Economical Management."

It is "economical management" to use the advertising columns of this paper to place before your prospective customers any message which you may wish to convey to them. With your ad. in this paper which goes into approximately 5,000 homes you are placing your message before at least 15,000 people at a small cost per person.

For an example we will say you used a $10 ad to reach these 15,000 people. It would cost you just about one-fifteenth of a cent per person or fifteen persons for 1 cent.

Wouldn't you consider this "economical management?"

Among the Theatres

Sixth Anniversary Of L. & T. Theatre

The sixth anniversary of Lubiner and Trinz' Senate theatre the week of February 7 will be celebrated by a program of six outstanding attractions with frivolity dominant. Art Kahn, who has become a favorite with an estimated two hundred thousand of L. & T. patrons in the past eight years, will lead his orchestra and carefully booked talent in the stage show. Ruth Fisher, soprano, who has been a hit on many previous engagements, Master Gilbert, song and dance sensation; and Vale and Stewart, dance twisters of original steps, will top the names of the entertainers.

The fifth and sixth major attractions will be on the screen. In "We're in the Navy Now," Wallace Beery and Raymond Hatton are transferred from the dry land of "Behind the Front," to salt waters as two bungling buddies of the navy. The other part of the photoplay program will be "Alaskan Adventures," a scenic film of two explorers on the rim of the Arctic, taken at personal hazard. It is a series of spectacles of the northern wilderness such as Robert W. Service describes in his poem "The Spell of the Yukon:" "There's a land where the mountains are nameless—and rivers run God knows where."

"Hello Swanee" Is Paul's New Oriental Show

Away down south in Dixie, so far below the Mason & Dixon line that the care free darkies whose light hearts and dancing feet are unaware that a jazz industry has sprung from them, is where Paul Ash reaches for inspiration in his new production, "Hello Swanee," which he proposes to stage next week.

Negro spirituals, negro melodies jazz tunes, strange new dances, and a gold mine of humor is the burden of the show.

"There have been minstrel shows and darky shows galore, both in tabloid and in full stage shows,—but "Hello Swanee" is something new in Chicago," declares Paul.

"I got the idea from Jacques Kalver, the famous song publisher who has traveled extensively through the south. In some of his trips, he has been compelled to spend many hours in close proximity to the simple children of the cotton fields, and the stories he tells convinced us that we ought to investigate. So some of my production staff made a trip down into the swamp country near the Louisiana bottom land, and in a week's time, they dug up more humor, and tune hunches than they've found in years. It took us nearly six months to whip the material into shape for the Oriental theatre, and find the necessary talent, but we've got it now—and Chicago is going to date new theatrical history from this show."

On the screen, Leon Errol, famous comedian of the Ziegfeld Follies, and Dorothy MacKaill,—also an ex-follies beauty, are the principal characters of "A Lunatic at Large." Leon has the role of the good natured hobo who agrees to take the place of a wealthy victim of a plot in an asylum. When things get too interesting he escapes—and when he does—he starts an endless riot of mirth.

Chaney Leads A Clerk's Life

"An actor who leads a clerk's life."

This is how George Hill, screen director, described Lon Chaney, and incidentally bares an intriguing mystery surrounding "The Man of a Thousand Faces," who, when not before the camera, is never seen in the usual haunts of actors of the screen.

"Where is Lon Chaney at night?" is one of the question often heard about Hollywood.

"Chaney is a mystery," says Hill, "because no one knows what he's doing when he isn't working. As a matter of fact, what he does with his spare time is mysterious in Hollywood; he goes home after work, reads the paper, smokes, and goes to bed. Sometimes he plays the piano a little, or he and Mrs. Chaney may go out and take in a show—he doesn't like night life or jazz. That's the only mystery about him. He likes to read political news and never talks shop when away from the studio."

Chaney plays the veteran sergeant in "Tell It To The Marines," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer epic of the Marine Corps which is now at McVicker's Theatre. William Haines is seen in the romantic lead as a recruit, and Eleanor Boardman plays the heroine. Hill was the director.

The new play is a vivid and spectacular story of the Marine Corps filmed, with government co-operation, on board battleships during the Pacific maneuvers, in Marine barracks and in strange Oriental locales with thrilling battles, the thunder of great guns in practice, and other spectacular detail surrounding a charming romance. The cast includes Carmel Myers, Eddie Gribbon, Mitchell Lewis, Maurice Kains, and others of note.

"Trudy" Comes To Chicago With Other Swimming Champs

Gertrude Ederle, the famous "Trudy" herself, comes to the Chicago Theatre February 14th for a week's demonstration of the swimming form with which she conquered the English Channel. This will be her sole appearance in Chicago and, in the week's engagement, she will be accompanied in her immense glass and steel tank by Helen Wainwright and Aileen Riggin, Olympic champions. This tank fills the immense stage of the Chicago theatre and presents a perfect view of "Trudy's" own particular manner of swimming.

On this all star bill Balaban & Katz will present the screen version of Frederick Arnold Kummer's sensational serial, "Love's Greatest Mistake," from Liberty Magazine. In this picture of the love adventures of a small town girl in modern New York City, Evelyn Brent, Josephine Dunn, William Powell and James Hall will have the leading roles. Miss Dunn is one of the discoveries of the Paramount School for actors, and displays, according to Paramount's word, remarkable talent.

"Puppets," an elaborate stage productfon, in which skilled pantomimists and dancers impersonate marionettes, will command the boards of the Chicago Theatre after Gertrude Ederle has shown and explained her art. "Puppets" is said to be one of the most ingenious developments of the stage production department which is bringing such lavish creations to the Balaban & Katz Theatres.

"The Potters" At Norshore, Sunday

Poor old Pa Potter, door mat of the entire Potter tribe, is in the movies and more people are laughing at him now than ever giggled at his misadvetures in print.

"The Potters," arriving at the Norshore Theatre on Sunday, with W. C. Fields starred as Pa. concerns itself with the episode in which Pa becomes interested in an oil deal. If you've never read J. P. McEvoy's comic strip or seen his play, it might be wise to say that "The Potters," are a family of average, human, everyday Americans. Pa is honest, blundering and ambitious. Ma loves her husband but continually argues with him. Mamie is eighteen and a flapper. Bill has reached an age where he can sport a cute little mustache.

Nothing but laugh provoking scenes follow on each other's heels. Ivy Harris and Mary Alden are featured in Mr. Field's support. Fred Newmeyer directed for Paramount.

Krueger and Dix Vie With Stage Units

Bennie Krueger in another red hot jazz show, even bigger and with more talent than his last several presentations, will be one of the magnets for drawing the Uptown populace to the huge Uptown theatre for the week beginning Monday.

Bennie Krueger's popularity and drawing proclivities in Uptown Square and around the immediate neighborhood where the Uptown theatre is located has grown at such a rapid pace that capacity audiences are the rule during the weeks when his orchestra and his shows are the stage features.

In addition to the Krueger unit, the screen feature for the week at the Uptown will be Richard Dix, King of motion picture stars and recent winne r of a popularity contest in which he was adjudged the most popular male actor on the screen. This time Dix comes to the Uptown in a production called "Paradise for Two." Betty Bronson plays the feminine lead opposite King Dick.

The picture is a pleasant and hilarious farce, in which Dix as a happy go lucky bachelor finds that he must marry to inherit a fortune. How he goes about playing at being married and how he finally falls in love with his feminine playmate makes a delightful screen story.

As an added stage feature, "The Pearl of Damascus," an Oriental music-drama, showing Oriental slave marts, harem dancers, and the color, mystery and drama that is of the Orient in which eighteen people are featured will also be shown.

'When a Man Loves' Vitaphone Picture

A third Vitaphone concert, coupled with John Barrymore's latest screen adventure, "When a Man Loves," will come to the Woods theatre, Friday evening, Feb. 18, following the first showing of the bill in New York last week where it made an emphatic impression upon a brilliant audience, according to the movie reporters of that city.

Dolores Costello, recently elevated to the estate of stardom in "The Third Degree," is the object of Mr. Barrymore's gallantry and hot amours and the same authorities vouchsafe the information that the delectable young woman, only a year or two in the making, shares with the screen's Lothaario, the honors of the performances. The new show is booked for a limited engagement at the Woods.

The Vitaphone concert will have for its stars Charles Hackett, Marion Talley, Beniamino Gigli, Jeanne Gordon, Guiseppe De Luca, Mary Lewis, Van and Schenck and Warring's Pennsylvanians, said by Warner Bros., to be the most artistic as well as the most entertaining bill so far released on the new "singing and talking screen."

"The Vagabond King" At The Great Northern

Perhaps no theatrical engagement in Chicago in recent seasons has caused more interest than Mr. Russell Janney's musical version of Justin Huntley McCarthy's "If I Were King," —"The Vagabond King," as it is called in musical form—now playing the Great Northern.

This romance is one of the greatest stories ever written in a play. Its appealing love story—its exciting dramatic climaxes have never been surpassed.

Everyone is familiar with the story of the Vagabond poet who for one day becomes King of France, and with his gang of thieves and knaves and harlots saves Paris from the clutches of the Burgundians. It is laid in the 15th Century in Paris and runs a whole gamut of scenes from the lowest Tavern Dive to the Palace Gardens of King Louis. One can rest assured that a gorgeous colorful spectacle is offered, particularly, as James Reynolds, for many years identified with the Ziegfeld Follies, has designed the scenes and costumes. The music is by Rudolf Friml, composer of the sensational "Rosie-Marie"—sufficient announcement to assure an unusual melodious dramatic score. The large cast includes Dennis King, Arthur Deagon, George Probert, Berna Deane and Frances Halliday, and many well known players. There is a chorus and ensemble of 150, and a symphony orchestra of 30.

Mutton Sheep for South

The mutton type of sheep as a rule fits best in southern farming, said Assistant Secretary of Agriculture R. W. Dunlap in a recent address. The climate of the south is well adapted to the production of early lambs that are ready for market in spring and early summer when prices for choice, young lambs are relatively high. Under modern condtions the sale of lambs should return to most southern farmers more than the sale of the wool from the same flock.

Abraham Lincoln Practiced Thrift

This week we will celebrate the birthday anniversary of one of our greatest men Abraham Lincoln.

Lincoln was born and raised in Illinois and it is with pride that we mention this fact. In Lincoln's time we did not have the advantages of education which we have today, yet honest Abe obtained an education in practical business, law and honesty which led him to the White House.

All of us can't be a Lincoln or sit in the presidents chair but we can all be better citizens, better neighbors and better fellowmen. Lincoln practiced thrift because he knew that this was the only way in which to obtain that which he wanted. Thrift does not only mean saving in every way that you possibly can to accumulate a vast amount of financial wealth but in saving and gathering that material wealth which no one can take from you.

Thrift comes through helping others and the best way to help others is by helping the community in which you live. Every dollar you spend in Arlington Heights is a thrift dollar with coupons. Every time a public improvement educational institution, religious home, etc., is made or built you can clip a coupon as a part of that dollar goes to help pay for them. Every dollar spent away from home is a dollar to which you have bid farewell as it goes to help build up some other community. Start practicing thrift today.
